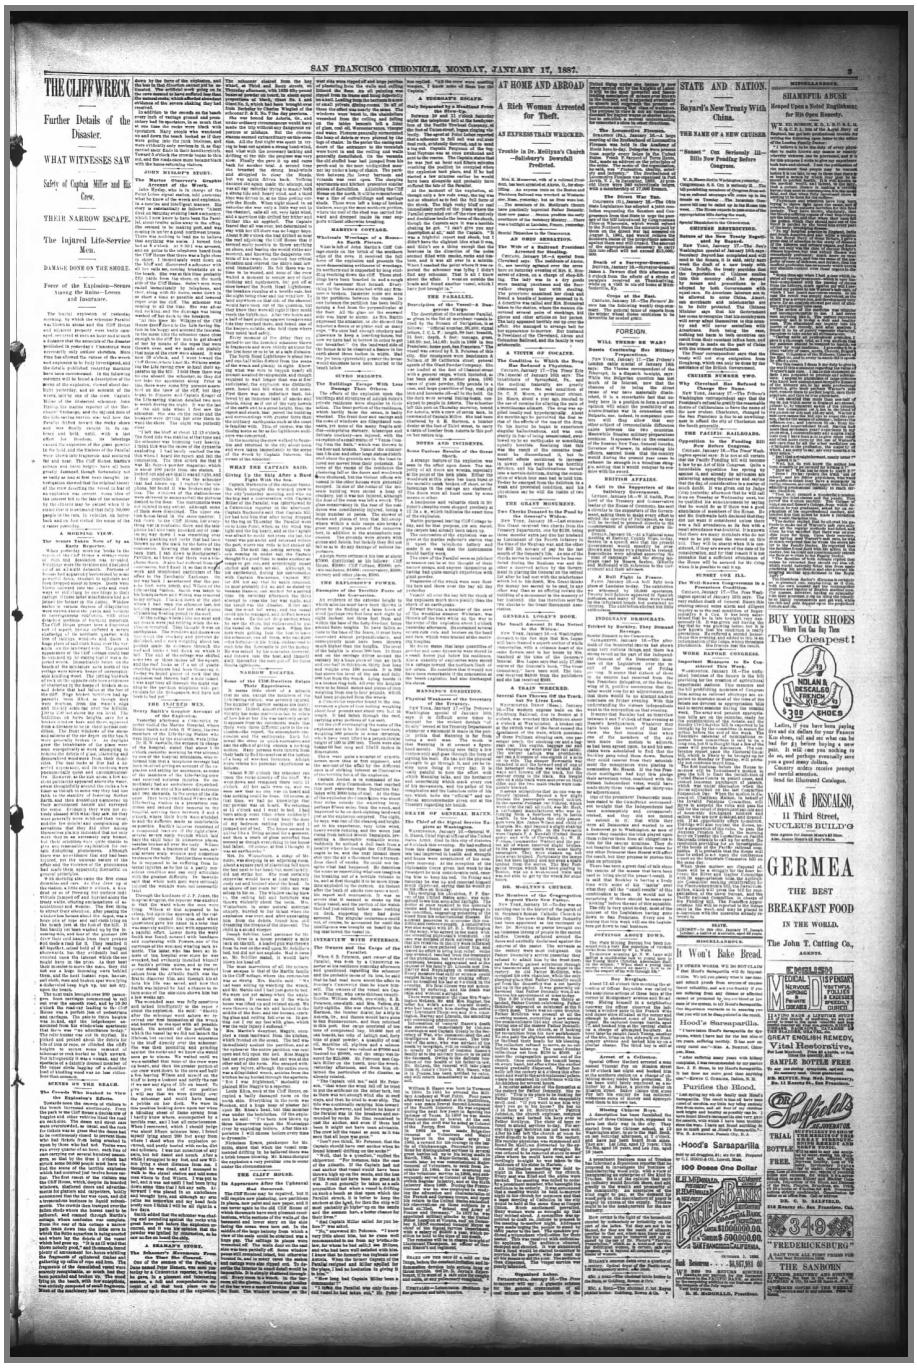
Newspapers by ancestry
https://www.newspapers.com/image/27503105

Downloaded on Jan 29, 2020



SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, MONDAY, JANUARY 17, 1887.

THE CLIFF WRECK

Further Details of the Disaster.

WHAT WITNESSES SAW

Safety of Captain Miller and His Crew.

THEIR NARROW ESCAPE.

The Injured Life-Saving Men.

DAMAGE DONE ON THE SHORE.

Force of the Explosion—Scenes Among the Ruins—Losses and Insurance.

The burial services of yesterday morning, by which the witnesses Patrick Lynch, Catherine Adams and the Cliff House will acknowledge property were lastly sanctioned by the Coroner, and the jury rendered a verdict that the accounts of the disaster published in yesterday's CHRONICLE were substantially correct. The jury also found that the cause of the explosion was the ignition of gas, and explosive to be fully investigated, and the jurors published yesterday morning have been corroborated. In the following account of the disaster, gathered from the mass of the evidence, viewed about the Cliff yesterday, and an account of the work done at the ruin. Captain Miller of the steamer whereon have been collected, the writer has endeavored to make it as possible and concise as possible, and to omit none of the facts which have any bearing on the case. Further developments may be made by the investigation which will be held by the Coroner to-morrow, but they will probably be few in number.

A MORNING VIEW.

The Scenes Taken Note of by an Early Visitor.

When yesterday morning broke in the region of the Cliff House a strange scene was presented to the eyes of those who had not heard of the accident. Perhaps a dozen persons were gathered on the bluff overlooking the wreckage and debris of the Cliff House proper, and a few more were on the beach below. Policemen were on guard to keep back the curious, and the Cliff House proper bore a deserted appearance. The Cliff House grounds bore a deserted appearance, and the usual throng of visitors was conspicuous by its absence. The ruins of the Cliff House proper bore a deserted appearance, and the usual throng of visitors was conspicuous by its absence. The ruins of the Cliff House proper bore a deserted appearance, and the usual throng of visitors was conspicuous by its absence. The ruins of the Cliff House proper bore a deserted appearance, and the usual throng of visitors was conspicuous by its absence.

THE INJURED MEN.

Henry Smith's Graphic Account of the Disaster.

Yesterday afternoon a CHRONICLE reporter visited the Marine Hospital, where the injured life-saving men are under the treatment of the Life-Saving Station Surgeon, Dr. Hutchinson. The reporter found Captain Miller and Lieutenant Richardson sitting in the hospital, where they had been visited by many friends. Captain Miller was very much prostrated by the accident, and was not able to leave his bed. Lieutenant Richardson was also confined to his bed, but was able to sit up and converse with visitors. Both of the injured men were very much depressed by the accident, and were not able to leave their beds.

THE CLIFF HOUSE.

The Appearance After the Upheaval Was Observed.

The Cliff House was visited, and it was found that the building was in a very bad condition. The roof was in a very bad condition, and the walls were in a very bad condition. The building was in a very bad condition, and the walls were in a very bad condition. The building was in a very bad condition, and the walls were in a very bad condition.

A SEAMAN'S STORY.

The Schooner's Movements From the Time She Passed Alcatraz.

Captain Miller, of the schooner Fearless, was found by a CHRONICLE reporter, to-day, in a private room at the Marine Hospital, where he is under the treatment of Dr. Hutchinson. The reporter found Captain Miller very much prostrated by the accident, and was not able to leave his bed. He was very much depressed by the accident, and was not able to leave his bed. He was very much depressed by the accident, and was not able to leave his bed.

AT HOME AND ABROAD

A Rich Woman Arrested for Theft.

AN EXPRESS TRAIN WRECKED.

Trouble in Dr. Mellyan's Church —Salisbury's Downfall Predicted.

FOREIGN.

WILL TURKEY BE WARY

Events Continuing Her Military Preparations.

THE GRANT MOVEMENT.

The Two Parties Promised to Be Back by the General's Widow.

GENERAL LOGAN'S BOOK.

The Small Amount It Has Netted Him Thus Far.

A TRAIN WRECKED.

Several Cars Thrown Off the Track, Two Men Killed and Others Injured.

MANNING'S CONDITION.

Physical Weakness of the Secretary of the Treasury.

DEATH OF GENERAL BAIRD.

The Chief of the Signal Service Expires Suddenly.

INTERVIEW WITH PETERSON.

The Owners and the Cargo of the Ship Fearless.

THE CLIFF HOUSE.

Opinions of Experts Regarding the Explosion.

THE EXPLOSION'S POWER.

Remains of the Terrible Force Are Found Everywhere.

NARROW ESCAPES.

Some of the Cliff-Dwellers Relate Their Experiences.

THE PARALLEL.

Description of the Vessel—A Dangerous Coast.

NOTES AND INCIDENTS.

HUMAN HELIOTS.

The Buildings Damage With Less Damage Than Others.

WHAT THE CAPTAIN SAID.

Giving Up the Ship After a Hard Fight With the Sea.

SCENES ON THE BEACH.

The Crowds Who Flocked to View the Explosion's Effects.

A SEAMAN'S STORY.

The Schooner's Movements From the Time She Passed Alcatraz.

THE CLIFF HOUSE.

The Appearance After the Upheaval Was Observed.

A SEAMAN'S STORY.

The Schooner's Movements From the Time She Passed Alcatraz.

STATE AND NATION.

Bayard's New Treaty With China.

THE NAME OF A NEW CRUISER

Not Yet Decided Upon by the Navy Department.

CRUISER REPRESENTED.

Nature of the New Treaty Negotiated by Bayard.

CRUISER NUMBER TWO.

Why Cleveland Has Refused to Change Her Name.

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Opposition to the Funding Bill Now Before Congress.

WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

SUNSET ON ILL.

The Well-Known Congressman in a Critical Condition.

BRITISH AFFAIRS.

A Call to the Supporters of the Government to Rally.

INDIGNANT DEMOCRATS.

Divided by Berkeley, They Demand Another Convention.

MISCELLANEOUS.

It Won't Bake Bread.

Purifies the Blood.

100 Doses One Dollar

Copyright © 2020 Newspapers.com. All Rights Reserved.