8 SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1888.

MORROW RETURNS.

The Congressman Talks on the Situation.

A SATISFACTORY OUTLOOK.

The Republicans Sure of All the Northern States and West Virginia.

Hon. W. W. Morrow, Congressman from the Fourth district of California, arrived in this city on the Southern Pacific from Washington, D. C., yesterday. To tell the business capital on Monday last, and stopped on the way at Chicago, where he had a conference with several distinguished Republicans. Mr. Morrow was quite enthusiastic over the outlook for a Republican success, and stated that there was no doubt in the minds of the leaders of Harrison and Morton. The Republicans will be the representation of an additional Electoral vote in the States of Montana and Dakota, and Congressman Morrow brought it up on Monday last on a motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill. Anderson of Mississippi demanded a second, and the motion was lost by a vote of 120 upon Mackenzie of Kentucky moving to adjourn. This was carried and the bill will now come up for first in the order of business when a quorum of the House is present to consider it.

Mr. Morrow said that he would address the voters of the Fourth district at an early day, but that he had not yet decided upon the time. Which he would appear, had not yet been determined.

"This is the political outlook east of the Rocky Mountains, Mr. Morrow?" was suggested.

"Yes, the interest in the campaign centers in the States that are usually doubtful—Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Nebraska. There is a very active canvass going on in those States, and the Republicans are making great headway in the Republican party has upon the question of protection to American industries. In New York the contest between the Cleveland and Hill factions in the State is large, while in the city of New York the fight of the Democratic party is the State will be a desperate contest in one of seventy-seven, and the Republicans will succeed by no less than a majority of 20,000.

"What is your opinion in regard to the Republican success in the Northern States?"

"I include, aside from the doubtful ones, the States of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska and West Virginia
