

PUBLIC HOUSES CLIFF HOUSE

Ideal Conditions Surround Re-opening of City's Famous Cafe and Landmark
Old Patrons Flock to Lift Their Glasses in Celebration of Event

To the crashing chorus of the waves, pounding their booming song against the ocean beaches, there were added last night the laughter and music of a pleasure seeking crowd which celebrated the opening of the new Cliff house under the management of John Tait by packing it from top to bottom. The conditions for an opening night were ideal. A benign moon lifted itself above Suto heights and touched the wave tops with silver edges. A breeze of warmth lingered with the evening breeze. The harmony and peace of nature enveloped the surroundings. Allured by these charms hundreds of couples drew away from the cafe proper, contenting themselves by prom- enading and in watching the waters racing through the Golden Gate. The event was peculiar in that it differed from the opening of other familiar cafes in its lack of strangeness. The Cliff house came into its own again instantly, without wonder or much comment, as if there had been no lapse of bleak months since its hospitable windows welcomed the incoming ships into San Francisco.

OLD FACES THERE

The old faces which in the past were to be seen there were there last night, and many a glass was lifted to the Seal rocks and mother ocean in thankfulness of the revival of old times. Among those who gave dinners were: John McLaren, James Miller, A. J. Mitchell, J. B. Murphy, A. McCarthy, H. L. Middleton, A. C. McGinty, Jack Morgan, Captain Norwood, J. W. Reed, Sam Rucker, G. L. Rathbone, William Rix, Mrs. Rigo, Thomas Alton, William Arnold, John L. Barrett, H. R. Blakely, Thomas Bishop, B. B. Bland, Pay C. Reel, A. Buchanan, J. Brugiere, J. W. Crofford, Louis J. Carl, John L. Doyle, A. R. Diamond, Frank Drury, C. C. Kirk, E. Drelich, James Emery, P. N. Kenrick, E. G. Galloway, Leonard, Walter Hobart, C. S. Hammond, H. T. Hodgson, George Holberton, Herman Miller, M. Jacob, Judge Lawlor, Charles Leach, H. A. Lowenberg, L. A. Larzer, Eugene Metcalf, C. S. Lammert, Dr. Meyerstein, Fred M. M.

THIRD ON FAMOUS SITE

The Cliff house has long been associated with the history of San Francisco. This building is the third to have been erected on the overhanging ledge of rock, the two predecessors having been destroyed by fire. The second Cliff house came into its own again instantly, without wonder or much comment, as if there had been no lapse of bleak months since its hospitable windows welcomed the incoming ships into San Francisco.

COOLEY LOSES IN SUPREME COURT

Higher Tribunal Affirms Decision of Superior Bench

The decision of the superior court in the case of Thomas Ross Cooley against Miller & Lux, an action in which the plaintiff sought to partition a portion of certain lands belonging to the defendant, in which the defendant was awarded a judgment, was affirmed by the supreme court yesterday. Cooley claimed title to a share of the Charles Lux estate from one John H. Campbell, the grantee of James H. Campbell, who acted as attorney for the "German" heirs.

MAKES PLEA FOR SHYLOCK OF SHAKESPEARE'S PEN

"No Jew could Really Be Such a Man," Says Lecturer
Leo Cooper, the well known lecturer, spoke last night at the Bush street temple on "The Merchant of Venice," and made a strong plea for the proper interpretation of the play in the schools. Teachers should read between the lines, said Cooper, and explain the underlying instincts of Shylock and his years of suffering by himself and his race. He should be made to feel that he is not a Jew, but a man. Nothing could be more contrary to the laws of the Jews than the character of Shylock, than the shedding of blood.

Rev. Anna Shaw Scores The Prospective Tariff

Burdens Added to the Lot of Woman

SEATTLE, July 1.—The forty-first annual convention of the National Woman Suffrage association opened its sessions in Plymouth church this afternoon, with all of the general officers present and nearly all of the famous leaders of the movement. Mrs. Emma Smith Devoe, president of the Washington association, welcomed the delegates, and Mrs. Mary S. Sperry, president of the California association, made the national response. In the absence of the international president, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, National President Anna Shaw delivered the annual report on international suffrage work.

She reviewed the unprecedented impetus which the suffrage cause had received in the United States in common with the countries of Europe, as the result of the great democratic wave which is sweeping over the nations, aided by the progressive tactics of the women in England during the last three years.

Miss Shaw took up the house tariff bill, in which the duty on women's wearing apparel is greatly increased, adding more and more burdens upon women, who have no power whatever and no voice in regulating the tariff or in the expenditure of the money which is thus wrested from them.

The inconsistency of the government, whose very existence is the result of protection and tariff regulations, in imposing a much more grievous burden upon its own citizens, was a serious commentary upon either the common sense or the justice of American manhood, she said.

Miss Shaw referred to the recent legislation of John A. Roebling, an evidence of the fanatical and emotional character of men, both in their condemnation and in their exaltation of women; as evidence that neither logic nor reason controls the present government by men.

She spoke of the great loss that had come to women in the death of George Meredith, who alone among men writers of fiction had been able to depict the true and progressive, self-poised woman.

The Spokane delegation, unseated yesterday by the Washington state convention, appealed today to the national executive committee, which is anxious to reunite the warring factions in this state, and will consider the matter tomorrow.

Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery presided at the evening session and official welcome to the city was spoken by Mayor John F. Miller.

California is represented by a large delegation at the convention and the voice of the delegates has been heard in the councils today to their advantage and to the benefit of the cause.

Mrs. Mary Simpson Sperry, president of the California association, today presented the greetings of the Golden State to the national body, in which she told of the work of the suffragists in California and of the increasing interest.

Mrs. J. N. Chapman of Alameda is an executive delegate, being a member of the executive committee. Mrs. Isabel Baldwin of San Francisco, Mrs. Julia J. Sanborn of Berkeley, Mrs. Albee L. Park of Palo Alto, Mrs. Bingham of San Jose, Mrs. Matheson of Palo Alto, Miss Fannie Willa of Los Angeles are the other California delegates present.

Miss Frances W. McLean of Berkeley is vice president of the national college equal suffrage league, which is holding meetings in conjunction with the national body.

Spent three happy, cozy days camping on the San Gregorio or Pescadero creeks, among the redwoods. Trout fishing is fine. Excursion rates on the Ocean Shore Railway. Time table page 11.

Mrs. Sperry, who responded to the welcome given suffragettes at Seattle.

Further efforts to reach an intelligent understanding of the financial methods of Willard P. Calkins were made in the bankrupt hearing of the former publisher yesterday before Milton J. Green, referee in bankruptcy. It was decided at noon that the tangle could not be unraveled without the minute book of the Sacramento publishing company, so an adjournment was taken until this morning at 10 o'clock, when the bankrupt will again take the witness stand to elucidate matters.

It seems that when Calkins purchased the Sacramento Union there were 2,500 shares of capital stock in that paper valued at $100 a share. Without taking up these shares Calkins proceeded to issue 200,000 of Sacramento Record-Union at $1 a share. Of the original stock he pledged 1,251 shares with the Union Trust company. The remaining shares he held for himself. Of the second issue he pledged 175,000 shares of common stock with the London, Paris and American bank. That stock was surrendered by the bank to the trustee yesterday. He also gave the bank 100,000 shares of preferred stock, which is still held by the bank.

Now that the trustee wants to sell the Sacramento Record-Union the question of the valuation of the second stock issue arises. It is contended by those representing Calkins that he had no authority to issue the 300,000 shares of stock in the new company, which he called the Sacramento publishing company, and that they are valueless and not to be considered. The creditors contend that the only safe way to proceed would be to sell the original stock and throw in the second issue. In this way, it was urged, no possible legal difficulty would be encountered by the purchaser.

Just as the hearing ended Attorney Putnam asked Calkins if he had pledged the same stock for two loans at one time. Calkins admitted this was so, but adjournment prevented this phase of his financial methods being exposed.

AUTO SKIDS THROUGH WHITE HOUSE WINDOW

Norman Cowan's Car Does a Stunt in Sutter Street

Skidding on the wet pavement near the corner of Sutter street and Grant avenue, a runaway driven by Norman Cowan of the Huggins & Merton company, dealers in automobile supplies at 544 Van Ness avenue, crashed into one of the large plate glass windows just west of the Sutter street entrance to the White House about a week yesterday afternoon.

Cowan was running down Sutter street at a moderate rate of speed with a friend at his side. When the car struck the wet spot near the window track it was thrown on the sidewalk. A hole was smashed in the window before Cowan could check the car. The window is 12 feet square. Cowan gave his name to the management and proceeded on his way.

Archibald McArthur, president and manager of the John McArthur company of Shasta county, died Wednesday at the Lane hospital from injuries received two months ago by falling from a buggy and breaking his neck.

McArthur has been a prominent business man in northern California for many years. His company owns over 20,000 acres of farming land in Pal River valley.

He left a wife, Mary McArthur, two daughters, Margaret and Catherine. The body was sent to the country home yesterday and the interment will be at Pine Grove cemetery Sunday, July 4, at 2 o'clock p. m.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY RESIGNS UNDER CLOUD

Los Angeles Official Denies Accepting Petty Bribe
[Special Dispatch to The Call]

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Joseph P. Seymour will resign his office tomorrow as the result of a charge that he had accepted a bribe made by George P. Arnerich, a saloon keeper accused of violating the liquor laws. Arnerich, who is proprietor of the Good Fellows groggery, declares that Seymour accepted $50 from him as a bribe for quashing the case against him. Seymour insists that he is innocent, and says that he is resigning with the hope of being reinstated after vindicating himself.

City Attorney Leslie Hewitt declared that he would begin a thorough sifting of the matter tomorrow.

Arnerich was arrested on a charge of attempted bribery after having been trapped into making an offer of money by City Detective Brown. In negotiating with Brown for the quashing of the case against him, he refused to pay $100, demanded, saying that Seymour had accepted $50.

Anty Drudge on Teaching 'Rithmetic.

Teacher (in arithmetic class)—"Now, Mary, if your mother spent two hours boiling the clothes, three hours in rubbing them, and an hour to hang them out, how many hours would that be altogether?"

Little Mary—"Yes, but my mama doesn't boil the clothes. She washes them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, and she doesn't have to rub them hard, either."

Anty Drudge—"You'd better make the time shorter, Mistress Schoolteacher, when you give an addition question like that to a little girl whose mother knows the advantage of washing with Fels-Naptha."

Easy on the woman and easy on the clothes.
That's why progressive women are washing their clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, in summer or winter.

It's easy on the clothes because it does away with fires for heating water, makes hard rubbing unnecessary and takes less than half the time of the old way of washing.

It's easy on the clothes because there is no boiling to make the clothes tender, and no hard rubbing to wear them into holes before their time.

Save yourself; save your clothes—use Fels-Naptha.

Costs little money for a big cake, and lasts longer than ordinary soaps.

In using it follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.
