

A White House Breakfast. How to Stop Crime. Popes and Kings. Jaipur's Girl Sacrifice.

On Thursday E. H. Gary, head of the biggest industrial organization in the world, and John D. Rockefeller Jr., representing what probably is still the biggest fortune in the world, and incidentally one of the most useful, will have breakfast with President Coolidge at the White House.

Those three men will make an interesting breakfast combination. Gary became head of the great steel concern when he was past fifty; Rockefeller Jr., born to own and manage the world's greatest fortune, is removed by only one generation from a little farm in the hills along the Hudson, and Calvin Coolidge in one generation is promoted from a farm in Vermont to the White House.

The President will entertain in Gary and Rockefeller two men who might do more than any others to solve the crime problem. You can diminish crime in two ways, first by making it costly and painful to the criminal with severe, prompt and inevitable punishment.

The law should be able to say to every man, "If you need food, and your wife and children need food, I will show you where you can work any day in the year and earn enough to feed yourself and your family."

Rockefeller and Gary might offer interesting suggestions for legislation that would supply constant employment. This country is big enough and needs enough work to keep everybody busy.

Changes come rapidly. In 1875, when Pope Leo opened the holy door in Rome, he sent gold medals in honor of the event to the Austrian Emperor Francis Joseph, then ruling part of Poland.

Now Pope Pius, fifty years later, again opens the holy door and sends one gold medal to President Wojciechowski, President of the Republic of Poland, and one to his wife, Madame Wojciechowski.

Jurist Invokes Ancient Rulings in Dealing Blow at Booze Smugglers; Flays Violators

The arm of the Volstead Act extends far into the Pacific. American officers have the right to apprehend whenever and wherever found all men and all vessels suspected of conspiracy to violate it.

"Hovering" off the coast of America by a vessel bearing liquor is prima facie evidence warranting seizure on a suspicion of such conspiracy.

The present liquor situation has reached a point resulting "not alone in persistent violation of this law, but in the most open and brazen defiance of our Government and its courts. Moreover, respect thus lost, has bred in thousands a contempt of all law and all authority—so that it is not too much to say that the traffic in illicit liquor is the nursery of crime of every description."

Such are the chief points of a sweeping opinion handed down yesterday by United States District Judge John S. Partridge, in which he not only swept within his jurisdiction the case of the Canadian rum-runner Quadra, but armed the prohibition forces of this coast with a full locker of powerful ammunition.

S. F. Mystic, Heir To Millions, Just Can't Be Bothered; He's Writing Book

Man Who Denies Existence of Anything Finds Vast Estate Is Waiting for Him in Britain

Cheerio, Old Top, what's a million dollars more or less! Why there's a man in San Francisco who just "can't be bothered" by it!

For W. M. H. Williamson, British subject and San Francisco resident, found yesterday that he has waiting for him over in Merry Old England a little two million dollar estate as inheritance from his father. And all W. M. H. Williamson says is, "Oh, it doesn't interest me—you know—what's a million dollars—what's a million dollars—what's a million dollars—"

For in the old days, "over there," the king, and the duke, and the earl, and W. M. H.'s father were pals together and owned the main street of Bath. But the king, and the duke, and the earl framed on W. M. H.'s father, and did him out of his natural share. So W. M. H. went to Australia, and Honolulu, and Timbuctoo, and traveled the globe and saw the world, and lived on a nickle or so—and was happy—and came to San Francisco.

And then he found deeds to his English estate and his father's will proving ownership to property valued at some $2,000,000 in the central portion of the famous watering place of Bath.

Administration Scouts Nervous as Long Beach Representative Carries Hard - Fought Battle

Governor's Vaunted Majority in Lower House Dwindles Almost to Vanishing Point in Count

By WILLIAM JORDAN. EXAMINER BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—"Another victory like this and we are lost," was the sentiment of nervous administration scouts today when the neck and neck race for control of the Assembly resulted in the re-election of Speaker Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach by a scant majority of one over Isaac Jones of Ontario. The vote was 40 to 39, one man absent—Loutitt of Stockton.

Over night the word was around of the strategy switch made by the anti as Assemblyman Albert A. Rosenshine of San Francisco withdrew in favor of Jones. Rosenshine declared in a midnight caucus that he saw a way to gain some votes against the administration policies by withdrawing and he took that step.

Down the line on the roll call the voting was nip and tuck right through and it was almost at the finish before the one ballot lead of Merriam was determined.

For Merriam—R. J. Anderson, Redding; Badham, Los Angeles; Brock, Redlands; Browne, Sonoma; Carter, Los Angeles; Cleveland, Watsonville; Cloudbman, Berkeley; Coombs, Napa; Davis, Los Angeles; Dayton, Salinas; Deuel, Chico; Dillingier, Placerville; Dodge, Los Angeles; Duval, Saticoy; Easley, Antioch; Ekwward, Burlingame; Foster, Fresno; Graves, Los Angeles; Hartman, Fullerton; Johnson, Hardwick; Jost, Hayward; Little, Hermosa Beach; Lyons, Los Angeles; McPherson, Vallejo; Melville, Fort Bragg; Merriam, Long Beach; Mixer, Exeter; Murphy, Weed; Noyes, Yuba City; Pierce, Los Angeles; Roberts, Huntington Park; Scudder, Sebastopol; Sewell, Whittier; Smith, Oakland; Spaulding, Sunnyvale; Walters, San Diego; Weiler, Glendale; Wemple, Litchfield; E. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Coolidge administration late this afternoon met its first legislative defeat in the present session of Congress, when the Senate refused to recommit to committee the postal salary bill, which the President vetoed last spring.

Although the postal pay advocates won easily, the vote showed they were three short of the necessary two-thirds with which to override the President's veto. A direct vote on the veto will be reached tomorrow.

Justice Department Head Is Elevated to the Bench After But Six Months in Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(I.N.S.)—Harlan F. Stone, who came into government service scarcely six months ago as attorney general in the Coolidge cabinet, was named to the United States Supreme Court this afternoon, succeeding Joseph McKenna, associate justice, who retired today.

McKenna placed his resignation in the hands of President Coolidge only today. It was accepted and within a few hours of its acceptance the White House announced the promotion of Attorney General Stone—the whole transaction constituting one of the fastest shifts official Washington has ever known.

Stone's resignation of the Attorney Generalship will leave two vacancies in the cabinet, the other being the post of Secretary of Agriculture, vacated by the death of Henry C. Wallace.

But after half a year in government service as attorney general, Harlan F. Stone, top, was elevated to the United States supreme court bench yesterday. He succeeds Justice Joseph McKenna, also pictured.

FRENCH NOTE DIMS U.S. HOPE FOR ACTION TO SETTLE DEBT

Long Awaited Word From Paris Found Mere Gesture to Feel Out U. S. Attitude on Loan

Communication Does Not Bind Nation to Proposal; American Officials Deeply Disappointed

By SEARS TAYLOR. Staff Correspondent Universal Service. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The hope of the Coolidge administration that France had at last decided to take steps to pay her debt to the United States, vanished today when M. Clementel's widely discussed communication reached the state department and turned out to be merely "an unofficial memorandum."

As an "unofficial memorandum," the communication does not bind the French Government to any suggestions it contains or even signify that France has recognized formally her debt to the United States.

Administration officials made no attempt to conceal their disappointment. In the words of one cabinet member, "the situation is exactly as it was six months ago." The only optimistic note that came from officials today was that the communication might serve as the opening wedge in an interchange of communications, eventually resulting in actual negotiations.

NO ANSWER LIKELY. Although Secretary Hughes immediately forwarded Clementel's memorandum to the treasury department, Secretary Mellon apparently did not consider it of sufficient importance to call a meeting of the debt funding commission of which he is the head. The debt commission will consider the matter later, Mellon said, but it is doubtful that any reply will be made by the commission.

IRENE CASTLE NOW MOTHER

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(By International News Service.)—"It's a girl. Both getting along nicely."

This was the word today from the Michael Reese Hospital here, where Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin, formerly Irene Castle of dancing fame is starting in a new role.

Her daughter, who it is said will be named for the mother, weighed seven pounds.

It is Mrs. McLaughlin's first child, although she has been married three times, first to Vernon Castle, dancer and British aviator who killed in Texas while instructing American flyers, and then to Captain Robert Tremain, whom she divorced in Paris. She married McLaughlin Thanksgiving Eve, 1923.
