

READY FOR THE FLAG

The Blood-Horse Association's Spring Races.

Every indication that the meeting will be a Success-Track Arrivals-Flambeau's Further Fast Work.

Not to crowd until you are out of the woods is an old and profitable maxim, and from the usual blood-horse luck regards the yearly rainfall it might be well to say nothing at present about the clerk of the weather and the chances for no rain at the spring meeting of the association.

But still, one small, light, little crow may be indulged in with the hope that the water regulator will not hear it, and the general sentiment of the horsemen expressed, that for the opening day, to-morrow, of the Pacific Coast Blood-horse Association's spring meeting, as far as a track could have been built in order to see it.

As the stakes offered are big the inducements for the best horses in the different classes to start are great, and as all the leading stables are already on the ground prepared to do battle good fields and lighting finishes seem already certain.

As has been before stated in the columns of THE CALL, the main interest of the meeting will center in the two-year-old events. All the three-year-old stakes are as good as already cashed by the Palo Alto stock-farm.

Still, if Henry Walsh, the manager of the Palo Alto stock-farm running division, should have the good fortune to win one of the three-year-old colts of America, there will be an opportunity for some of the other owners to put in the place and save stake money.

But the main interest of the meeting will center in the two-year-old events. All the three-year-old stakes are as good as already cashed by the Palo Alto stock-farm.

FUN AND CHARITY.

Mother Nature's Daughters Growing Rapidly in Favor.

Old Fellow! Hall Packed Last Night With a Delightful Audience—Only Two More Nights and a Matinee.

LESSINGS bright rest upon the heads and lives of the noble army of women who have made it their work to rescue the perishing children of this great city, and who are endeavoring to pave the way before them to a useful future.

"Floor, gallery and aisles, sitting-room and standing-room, all filled, was what gratified the projectors of 'The Festival of Mother Nature's Daughters' last night at Old Fellow's Hall.

"Well, I guess the folks got their 'four bits' worth of fun to-night," was what Mr. Folger said as that synonym of youth, beauty and intelligence was passing out of the door and vanishing for the night from the sorrowing gaze of the vision of beauty he so reluctantly left behind him.

"A perfect success and every one made happy" was the verdict pronounced by Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, the mother of the kindergarten system of San Francisco.

The scene was a glorious one. The stage was draped with the stripes and stars until the national colors hung in graceful folds over everything. The programme was "Columbia's Reception to All Nations," the text having been written by Mrs. Ella Sterling Cummins, and the music composed and arranged under the direction of Professor Carlos Troyer.

At the left of the stage stood Columbia, represented by Mrs. Anna M. Wood, Mr. Charles A. Murdock as Uncle Sam, and in the center stood Captain J. S. Mitchell, who acted as master of ceremonies, and the different nations as they appeared were introduced to Uncle Sam and Columbia by the Captain and the attempts made by Uncle Sam to struggle with the foreign giant.

The order was as follows: Overture, Park Band. "The Song of the Mother of Nations," fantasia, Carlos Troyer. "The Song of the Mother of Nations," fantasia, Carlos Troyer.

TEMPERANCE TICKET.

Nominations Made by the Prohibitionists.

A Platform Without Any Cigarettes in It Is Adopted—A State Central Committee Organized.

The members of the Prohibition Convention reassembled in Pioneer Hall at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, pursuant to adjournment, and first took up the matter of the admission of proxies, which resulted as on the previous day in their being entirely ruled out.

The next order of business was the nomination of a State Central Committee, to consist of 100 members—one from each county, and the others from the State at large.

The committee on platform, through its Chairman, C. H. Dunn of Sacramento, presented the result of its labors, the features of which were:

I.—An endorsement of the National Prohibition party, being an evil of great magnitude, defying the law, endangering the Government and debauching public morals, a resolution to be adopted as master of ceremonies.

II.—The attitude of the old parties being that of trucking to the liquor traffic, this party is opposed to the liquor traffic, and in favor of the prohibition of the sale of liquor.

Testimony in the Blythe Case Will Close To-Day.

Judge Coffey spoke with determination yesterday afternoon when he declared his desire for the closing of testimony in the Blythe case. He said he did not care a straw for further impeachments and contradictions.

The motion to discuss the resolution referring to the loaning of money by the Government on farm property was lost. Henry Blythe, who is the defendant, said that the thanks of the convention be tendered the press of San Francisco and reporters for their free advertisement of the case.

The motion was modified by the exclusion of the benefit of advertising and was carried. A member on the platform said: "We fall back on the fact that they—the press—Christians, and the convention adjourned."

Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper testified yesterday that she saw Joseph James Ashcroft and Julia Perry together in the room where the witness said she saw them called at her place. She asked Ashcroft if he knew Julia Perry and he said he knew all about her.

On cross-examination Mrs. Bailey testified that she knew Mrs. Ellen Ashcroft and met her in the city of San Francisco in 1877. Mrs. Ashcroft took her with her that day. The witness did not know Mrs. Ashcroft's name until she received 100 to testify in the Blythe case, nor that her husband had been paid a like sum.
