

M'GABE HOLDS SEAL OF OFFICE

He Refuses to Surrender It to Senator Charles M. Shortridge.

Building and Loan Commissioners Squabbling Over a Position.

Senator Charles M. Shortridge has a gold brick in his possession, but it is not one of those stolen from the Selby Smelting Works. It was presented to him by Governor Gage and is in the shape of an office that he cannot gain possession of until his rival is ousted by a court of law or his term expires. As the latter will not take place until a year from next December Shortridge is wondering where he is at.

Shortridge was appointed a Building and Loan Commissioner to succeed E. D. McCabe in June. He has made every effort to reap the benefits of his appointment, but a warrant for a half month's salary issued to him by the State Controller is the sum of his success in this direction.

WANTS SCOTT TO ACCEPT CIVIL SERVICE DEPUTIES

Mayor Phelan Asks Tax Collector Direct Question, Which He Will Answer To-Day.

Mayor Phelan summoned Tax Collector Scott to his office yesterday and asked him whether he would accept the civil service eligibles for Deputy Tax Collectors in view of Judge Marasky's decision that his old deputies are not entitled to salary. Scott said he desired to comply with the law, but insisted on seeing his legal adviser, A. Ruef, before announcing his decision. After a consultation with Ruef, Scott stated that he would give a decided answer to-day.

The deputies now employed say it is their intention to appeal the case to the Supreme Court. They claim that there is still another injunction in effect to prevent the appointment of civil service deputies in the various offices, in which the Civil Service Commission is charged with conducting unfair examinations in not providing different sets of questions for the tax and license offices. This case is now pending and will be decided in a short time.

as to the nature of the memorial. The Weimar Goethe-Schiller statue was a favorite from the first and was made the choice of the committee.

It was found that the statue could be duplicated in bronze, transported to this city and set up for about $10,000. To raise this sum there was held the great German festival of the autumn of 1896. This was a week's celebration in Mechanics' Pavilion. Goethe and Schiller were the invisible patrons of the whole affair. Scenes from their works, passages and tableaux from their dramas, were presented with an elaborate setting. In fact, the setting was entirely too elaborate, for the receipts were counted it was found that, although $27,000 had been taken in, the expense was so great that there remained only $200.

With only one-third of the required sum in hand the committee set about to raise the remainder by private subscription. Two years ago the order for the casting was given.

The monument is in bronze on a base of brown Missouri granite. The figures are eleven feet in height and the base and pedestal forty feet. The position the statue will occupy is a most commanding one, midway between the museum and the Japanese tea garden, and in full view of the music stand. The ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue on Sunday afternoon are to be most elaborate. There is to be a parade of the various uniformed German societies will pass in review before the statue and place flowers at its feet.

In the evening there are to be exercises in Native Sons' Hall. The programme for the evening will be both musical and literary. President Charles Bundschu, manager of the orchestra, grand choruses of the united German singing societies, an original poem, written by Theodore Kirchoff and to be read by M. Greenblatt, and an oration in German by Professor E. Fuesgel of Stanford University.

Dr. C. M. Richter, in behalf of the executive committee of the Goethe-Schiller Monument Association, and Charles Bundschu, president of the association, will make the dedication addresses. Mayor Phelan will respond for the city. Miss Anna Friebel will at the auspicious moment snatch the covering from the beautiful statue.

FOOTPAD BEATS LEWIS MORRISON

Aged Actor Held Up on Ellis Street and Injured.

Brutal Assault Is Perpetrated by an Unknown Ruffian.

Lewis Morrison, the well-known actor, was brutally assaulted by a footpad last night on Ellis street, near Jones. He was struck in the face by his assailant, and while lying in a dazed condition on the sidewalk was kicked in the body. Fortunately for the actor some people were coming toward him, otherwise he might have suffered the loss of his valuables and received further injury.

Robbery was the motive of the assault. Mr. Morrison was on his way to escort his wife, Florence Roberts, home from the Alcazar Theater. He resides on Ellis street, near Franklin, and was walking leisurely along Ellis when the footpad accosted him. Mr. Morrison was taken by surprise and offered feeble resistance. The thief grabbed for his watch, but was frustrated, as the actor's coat was buttoned. Mr. Morrison then tried to push his assailant from him, at the same time calling loudly to him to desist. The footpad, seeing that he had a feeble man to contend with, struck his victim in the mouth, and staggered to his feet. He rested down Ellis street and hundreds of passersby wondered what had happened to him. He was covered with blood and presented a pitiable appearance. He was directly to the dressing-room of Florence Roberts at the Alcazar. Miss Stella Rosetta and a number of other ladies attended him. A doctor was sent for.

Miss Roberts was on the stage and was not told of the assault until the curtain had dropped. She then grew hysterical and her friends had hard work pacifying her.

Police Officer George F. Mulcahey followed Mr. Morrison to the theater and secured all the facts in the case. He made a report to his captain, and officers were dispatched last night to the neighborhood in the hope of capturing the footpad.

Legal Holiday Questioned.

Some doubt exists in City Hall circles as to whether or not the ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors declaring next Tuesday a legal holiday affects the so-called county offices. Godchaux has not yet decided whether or not he will close his office. He says the days on which he shall close are specified by the Political Code, and he doubts whether the Board of Supervisors has the authority, even though delegated by the legislative act, to close his office. Other county offices, such as the Assessor, County Clerk and Sheriff, are in the same category, and the spectacle may present itself on primary election day of some departments being open and others closed.

ALL THE VIRTUES OF MALT ARE FOUND IN Malt Breakfast Food

Some people use malt in liquid form for building up the system; this is unwise, as the virtues of the malt are invariably spoiled by admixture of fermented liquors. To obtain the great health and strength yielding virtues of malt it should be eaten in its natural state combined with that perfect food grain, wheat. Malt Breakfast Food is a health combination of both, easy to digest, delicious and refreshing. Thousands of physicians recommend it. At all grocers.

TWO LAWYERS ARE ON TRIAL

Testimony to Be Taken in Disbarment Proceeding.

Terence V. Powderly, National Commissioner of Immigration, has requested United States Immigrant Inspector Hart H. North to take testimony in the matter of the proposed disbarment from the Chinese Bureau of Clarkson Dye and O. P. Stidger.

Some time ago Stidger, while acting as an attorney for a Chinese immigrant who sought permission to land at this port, incurred the displeasure of Chief Dunn of the Chinese Bureau, who accused Stidger of incivility and conduct unbecoming the dual character of lawyer and gentleman. Shortly afterward Mr. Dye ran afoul of Chief Dunn and made written complaint to Commissioner Powderly, accusing Dunn of discourtesy and arbitrary conduct. When this matter was made public in the press Stidger was quoted as having made remarks casting doubt upon Chief Dunn's qualifications as a polished gentleman of the old school.

Three weeks ago Mr. Powderly informed Customs Collector Stratton by letter that Dye and Stidger in their relations with the Chinese Bureau had been guilty of grossly unprofessional conduct and were not the kind of people to whom the Collector should extend the courtesy of appearing for their clients. He therefore authorized the Collector to withhold from the gentlemen named the privileges of the bureau usually accorded to attorneys and brokers. Mr. Stratton asked to be excused from acting in the matter, and the matter was passed to Immigration Commissioner North, who at present is hunting in the wooded mountains of Nevada County.

The matter has excited great interest among the frequenters of the bureau, and there is much divergence of opinion as to the truth of the allegations on both sides.

Kapp Must Refund.

Judgment has been given by Judge Seawell ordering Charles F. Kapp, a saloon-keeper, to refund to C. H. Koehncke, who is employed by the Enterprise Brewery, and Carl W. Mueller, an employe of the County Clerk, moneys obtained from them as the consideration for stock in the Charles F. Kapp Company, organized to conduct amusements at Glen Park, near Ocean View. Kapp represented that the business was paying $2000 a month. Koehncke put $2000 into the scheme and Mueller purchased shares of the par value of $3000. Mueller assigned his stock to Koehncke, who sued to recover $3000, the sum advanced, with interest from August 13, 1900. Judge Seawell yesterday decided in favor of the plaintiff.

GRABS WEALTH FROM A WOMAN

Daring Robber Chased Through Streets of Vancouver.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 8.—Frank Henry, who has just arrived from Cape Nome, was arrested this morning after an exciting chase by Andrew Jukes, manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

Henry had evidently been watching his opportunity all morning for a chance to snatch a bundle of banknotes. Two women came out of the bank, one holding a purse in which she carried over $1000. Henry snatched this and ran down the crowded street. Manager Jukes saw the man as he rushed past his window and immediately started in pursuit. He ran three blocks and finally picked up his man, who was by this time walking leisurely along, thinking that he was safely out of harm's way.

Henry made another attempt to get away as he was going to the police station. In the Police Court later in the day he was committed for trial.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

RING WORM AND DANDRUFF.

They Are Each Caused by a Pesticiferous Germ.

Ringworm and dandruff are somewhat similar in their origin; each is caused by a parasite. The germ that causes dandruff digs to the root of the hair and saps its vitality, causing falling hair and finally baldness. Without dandruff there would never be baldness, and to cure dandruff it is necessary to kill the germ. There has been no hair preparation that would do this until the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide, which positively kills the dandruff germ, always itching instantly and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. At all drug-gists. Take no substitutes. There is nothing "just as good."
