

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, MONDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1902.

PACIFIC CABLE IS LANDED AMID THE CHEERS OF TENS OF THOUSANDS

BROUGHT ASHORE HALF MILE BELOW THE CLIFF HOUSE AND SUCCESSFULLY SPLICED AT HIGH NOON.

Light-Draft Steamer Bearing the Shore End Teams Within a Few Hundred Yards of Surf and Lifeboat Brings in Hawser---The First Message.

UNTER THE most gloriously favorable general conditions that ever marked a great historic event on the sunset shore of the American continent, the new Pacific cable was landed through the surf at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs. From a tugboat, which was anchored in the bay, a light-draft steamer, bearing the shore end teams, came ashore and, within a few minutes, had been successfully spliced at high noon.

The steamer, bearing the shore end teams, came ashore and, within a few minutes, had been successfully spliced at high noon. The cable was landed through the surf at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

The cable was landed through the surf at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs. The steamer, bearing the shore end teams, came ashore and, within a few minutes, had been successfully spliced at high noon.

GLIMPSE OF THE FORMING CROWD

THE CABLE WAS LANDED SUCCESSFULLY AT HIGH NOON

NO END OF THE CABLE WAS AT FIRST PULLED ASHORE

CHIEFS HUNG ALONG BEACH. As the super-torrid hot sun beamed down upon the beach, the chiefs of the cable and the shore end teams were gathered on the beach, some on the shore end teams, some on the shore end teams, some on the shore end teams.

THE MIGHTY HAWSER. The mighty hawser, which was the cable, was brought ashore and spliced at high noon. The cable was landed through the surf at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

THE FIRST MESSAGE. The first message was sent through the cable at high noon. The message was sent through the cable at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

THE FIRST MESSAGE. The first message was sent through the cable at high noon. The message was sent through the cable at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

THE FIRST MESSAGE. The first message was sent through the cable at high noon. The message was sent through the cable at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

THE FIRST MESSAGE. The first message was sent through the cable at high noon. The message was sent through the cable at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

THE FIRST MESSAGE. The first message was sent through the cable at high noon. The message was sent through the cable at high noon yesterday morning and spliced in the presence of tens of thousands of cheering throngs.

More About Overcoats.

A maximum amount of overcoat satisfaction for a minimum amount of money.

Fifteen dollars buys you a good one.

—of blue or black Kearsy lined throughout with satin.

—of Melton Cloth in Oxford Gray, Black or Cambridge.

— Serge lined — same as straight or perpendicular pockets — 6 1/2 length — medium and long.

The overcoat proposition starts at $10 and ends with $55.

All moving.

See and see the 75-rooms.

Roos Bros. Kearsy at Post