To Hotel Keepers.

It is our intention to furnish the DRAMATIC CHRONICLE to every HOTEL upon the Pacific Coast, including California, Oregon, Nevada, and Idaho, Washington and Utah Territories. Hotel keepers who have not yet received the paper, will be supplied upon forwarding their respective addresses.

☞ Complete Files of the Dramatic Chronicle are mailed to all the principal Theaters of the United States and Europe.

AMUSEMENTS.

Metropolitan Theater.

A glance at the crowded dress circle of the Metropolitan Theater any night in the week will afford convincing proof that Arrah-na-Pogue, after nearing forty-five nights, is not even now played out. But three more performances will be given. Surely on the last three nights of Arrah-na-Pogue the house will be crowded by those who are anxious to take one more look at this wonderful sensation drama. To-morrow night, Charles H. Parsloe, the door-keeper, who has during so many nights faithfully held his post, and never made a mistake about tickets, will take a benefit, when we hope instead of the paper equivalent, which he has accepted as a legal tender, he will receive a good round sum in cash.

The Academy of Music.

Miss Emily Thorne is an established favorite; none speak of her but to praise. A fine audience assembled in the Academy last night, and the performance went off most satisfactorily. To-night, the sterling comedy of The Widow's Best, again will be presented, Miss Emily Thorne taking the character of "Francine," and singing several songs. Little Jennie performs a song and dance, and the performance concludes with the farce of Somebody Else. A grand matinee is given to-morrow. A new burlesque, on the composition of which all the available talent round the Academy has been employed, will be produced shortly; it is entitled Arrah-na-Pokn.

The Opera House.

Tonight, Daniel E. Bandmann takes a benefit, appearing in the character of "Narcisse," in which he is unapproachable.

The Olympic.

Miss Jennie Lamont has made an immense hit in the Daughter of the Regiment. The music of this drama has been carefully rehearsed and is performed in excellent style. Both Manager Wachtel and Mr. Ending, the leader of the orchestra, deserve great credit for the manner in which it is produced. We trust that the public will continue to crowd the house nightly as they have done since the production of this piece, and thus show their appreciation of good music. A splendid bill is offered to-night. In addition to the Daughter of the Regiment, there is any amount of fun, comic songs, Irish songs, negro songs and dances, fairy dances, and a grand Walk-Around. All tastes are pleased at the Olympic.

Hayes Park.

On Sunday there will be a grand balloon ascension at Hayes Park, and Mons. Auguste Buislay will perform a number of wonderful darling Feats on a trapeze suspended from the balloon during its ascension. This exhibition caused an unparalleled sensation in Sacramento when it was presented there, and will doubtless draw thousands to witness it. In addition to this the Buislay Family will appear in a variety of new feats, the Persian Throne, etc., etc. The usual grand ball will be given in the Pavilion, and the admission to the whole entertainment will be but 25 cents.

Great Original Romance.

"All for a Million; or, The Heir-at-Law," a Romance of California, by G. B. Densmore, will be commenced in the California Leader of November 18th.

A Critical Eye.

The art critic of the Bulletin in his notice of Jump's lithograph of Bommer, says he is represented as reposing on a raised platform, and "at each corner of the platform burns a wax taper." We object to this statement. How does he know these tapers are wax? We are inclined to believe they are tallow, and can state good and sufficient reasons for that belief, while the Bulletin's critic has positively nothing to support his statement that they are wax. One of them is guttering, and a rat is enjoying the gutter, as rats are apt to do; wax candles don't gutter. If this art critic makes any more such rash statements he must be discharged. The critic says "Teem" appropriately commences his doggrel poem with a bit of dog-Latin. We hope it was not the same appreciation of the fitness of things that made the Bulletin call Lazarus "Bummer's felon Achates"—that is dog-Latin; but we are willing to believe that the printer and proof-reader are at fault. As "perspective" is turned into "prospective," the Bulletin's art critic for the occasion, who writes more correctly as a rule than nine-tenths of the editors in this city, very probably wrote "felon Achates." But the candles are not wax.

A Valuable Paper.

T. s Flag has been prophesying and praying for an earthquake; it now attempts to destroy little Puck by its prophecies. It will probably bring about the destruction of San Francisco by an earthquake and the death of Puck also at the same date. The following appeared in its issue of Wednesday: "Somebody says that the little Puck is about to go the way of poor Mrs. Grundy. An individual may laugh, and at the same time grow fat, but fatness is not the inevitable result of extravagant laughter, it appears. Puck's merriment is both noisy and convulsive; but not contagious." As the publishers announce in their last issue that Puck will, after the first of January, become a weekly instead of appearing only once a month, it would appear that Puck's laughter, though the outlay for pictures has been rather extravagant, has in his case made him fat. Puck only needed the Flag's prophesies of his death to insure his immortality. All things which the good citizens of San Francisco love the Country Paper in Town hates with an exceeding bitter hatred.

Well Known.

Mrs. Moore, who has for years been well known to the citizens of San Francisco as a most artistic dressmaker, has now left Mme. Verdere's, Sacramento street, and commenced business on her own account at 151 Second street, between Natoma and Howard.

☞ Mrs. C. M. Stowe, Medical and Business Clairvoyant, Shields' Block, at the junction of Post and Montgomery, corner of Market. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. nov

A Fine Conception.

The local of the Examiner, speaking of Mrs. Harry Jackson, says: "She personated the witty and sarcastic 'Beatrice' to perfection, and the audience was not at all surprised that she should entrap the soul of the cynical and bashful 'Benedick.'" The "bashful 'Benedick'?" The local of the Examiner is a fair sample of the kind of conception of the character of "Benedick" as the great Anglo-German tragedian has of "Hamlet" and "Duc Cæsar de Bazan." Why did he not call "Beatrice" bashful, also?

Sacrifice.

The heirs of the late Thomas G. Sanford are willingly to pay a heavy discount for ready money. The administrators of his estate are therefore selling off the fine stock of clothing and gentlemen's furnishing goods at a sacrifice, in order to realize as speedily as possible. Retail dealers can purchase in quantities to suit at a less price than that which the goods originally cost.

☞ The San Andreas Register mentions a hunter in that vicinity who shot a pelican across the Gulf of California with shoe-blacking for gunpowder.

MR. MARTIN, whilst in the Eastern States, and since his return, has added largely to his Stock, and should be pleased to have those in want of Good Goods, at fair prices, to give him a call before making their purchases, and he thinks he can please all both as to quality and prices.
