CLIFF HOUSE UNDER ATTACHMENT FOR $88,000

John Sroufe Tries to Collect on Two Notes Aggregating $88,000, Made by James M. Wilkins of the Ocean Shore.

Former Says It Is Another Case of Standing by a Friend Too Long, and Then Being Repaid by Base Ingratitude.

John Sroufe, a prominent San Francisco merchant, has filed a suit for the attachment of the Cliff House for $88,000.

The suit is based on two promissory notes made by James M. Wilkins, a former partner of Sroufe's.

Sroufe claims that Wilkins has failed to pay the notes and that he has stood by him too long.

The Cliff House is owned by the Ocean Shore Hotel Co., which is controlled by Wilkins.

Sroufe's attorney has filed the suit in the Superior Court of San Francisco.

The suit is expected to be tried in the near future.

Sroufe is a well-known merchant and has been successful in many of his business ventures.

Wilkins is a former partner of Sroufe's and has been successful in his own business.

The Cliff House is a prominent hotel in San Francisco and is one of the most expensive in the city.

The suit is expected to be a long and costly one for both parties.

Sroufe is expected to be successful in his suit and to recover the full amount of the notes.

Wilkins is expected to fight the suit and to deny the allegations made by Sroufe.

The suit is expected to be a test case for the law of promissory notes.

The Cliff House is expected to be sold if Sroufe is successful in his suit.

Sroufe is expected to be a satisfied customer if he recovers the full amount of the notes.

Wilkins is expected to be a disappointed man if he loses the suit.

The suit is expected to be a landmark case in the law of promissory notes.

The Cliff House is expected to be a prominent hotel in San Francisco for many years to come.

Sroufe is expected to be a successful merchant in many of his business ventures.
