

LOST TO SIGHT ON A WILD SEA

Probable Disaster to a Schooner Off Goschen Island.

Disappears Suddenly While a Terrific Storm Is Raging.

Believed to Be the Janus, Carrying Gold-Seekers to Copper River.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

PORT TOWNSEND, Oct. 31.—The fishing schooner Pilot returned to Port Townsend today from an unlucky voyage to the halibut banks of Southeastern Alaska...

After starting for home the Pilot put in at Goschen Island, where there is a small fishing-supply store, and a small amount of provisions was purchased.

When the storm was first breaking Captain Johnson sighted a little schooner heading northward with the American flag flying.

Early in the evening the storm broke out again with renewed vigor, and every wave threatened to send the craft to destruction.

On the return voyage the Pilot again met contrary winds and the stock of provisions was practically exhausted.

On the return voyage the Pilot again met contrary winds and the stock of provisions was practically exhausted.

VETERAN ENGINEER DEAD.

Passing of Fowler Pope, Who Handled the Throttle on the Famous "Betsy Jane."

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 31.—Fowler Pope, a resident of California since 1861, and of Santa Cruz since 1874, died at 5 o'clock this morning.

WATER FOR SALINAS VALLEY.

Work on an Extensive Irrigation System Will Soon Be Begun.

MONTREY, Oct. 31.—The Salinas Valley Water Company has at last succeeded in obtaining right of way for its irrigation ditch from King City to Monterey.

FOOD COFFEE.

FAMOUS IN FOODS and DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

"I am having a delightful time with it (Postum) personally; had two cups of it for breakfast, and have recently converted a musical friend who said 'I will not even try cereal coffee.'"

"ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, MASS." "MARIAN A. McBRIDE.

Drugs are used in imitation of Postum Cereal Food Coffee to give it a bitter or coffee taste.

In the desperate attempts of counterfeiters to take the public money they resort to ingredients that are harmful to the human stomach.

All genuine packages of Postum, the absolutely pure and healthful cereal coffee, have seals and the words "It Makes Red Blood" thereon.

When boiled FULL fifteen minutes after the boiling point is reached it tastes like the better grades of Java.

IN THE CLUTCH OF AN ABDUCTOR

Santa Rosa's Mysterious Criminal Again at Work.

Attempts to Carry Off the Young Daughter of J. C. Martin.

Scream of the Child Attract Her Father and the Culprit Makes His Escape.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 31.—The individual whose mysterious work has struck terror into the hearts of many Santa Rosa mothers during the past few weeks made his presence known again last night...

Lita and Charlotte, Martin's two daughters, went from the house last night into the back yard to get some wood.

As soon as the mysterious individual saw the father of the girls he turned and ran in another direction.

VICTORY ASSURED TO REPUBLICANS

Sacramento Citizens Figuring on the Size of Land's Plurality.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31.—The "rodeo" has commenced and the political "round up" promises to be an interesting one.

Said a candidate to THE CALL correspondent last night: "If I am not elected there are more Ananiases in my yard than in all the rest of the world."

The fight at the Capital City this year presents a phase differing in many respects from those in years gone by.

On the other hand, to the utter amazement of old Sacramentoans, there is not a paper published in the town that is not standing up for the standard-bearer of the Republican ticket.

The Republican candidates have made a quiet, gentlemanly, painstaking canvass. Not a single one of them has engaged in personal rivalry or permitted an advocacy of his cause at the expense of another man's good name or reputation.

STUCK WITH A BILLIARD CUE.

J. W. Blunden, an architect, was arrested early yesterday morning on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

E. Goldberg, 531 Natoma street, was coasting down the hill on Fulton street yesterday afternoon on his bicycle, when he lost control over the machine.

A Musical Evening.

A concert will be given by the Irving Institute Mandolin Club on Wednesday evening, November 3.

Dr. Hirschfelder's oxytuberculin is, in the not very distant future, to be given free to victims of consumption all over the United States who may be too poor to buy it.

This is a remarkable scheme of benevolence in the line of giving medical aid to suffering humanity.

OXYTUBERCULIN FOR THE POOR

Great Philanthropic Scheme Planned by Rich Men.

Chicago's Department of Health Makes Eager Inquiry About the Discovery.

Dr. Hirschfelder's Remedy Is Being Tested in Hospitals of Paris and Brussels.

Chicago's Department of Health Makes Eager Inquiry About the Discovery.

Dr. Hirschfelder's oxytuberculin is, in the not very distant future, to be given free to victims of consumption all over the United States who may be too poor to buy it.

This is a remarkable scheme of benevolence in the line of giving medical aid to suffering humanity.

The details of this philanthropic plan are not ready to give out, and they are not even worked out, but it is known that men of large means, who have acquired full faith in the efficacy of oxytuberculin have decided to see that there shall be no victim of the dread tuberculosis so poor that he may not have any salvation that there may be for him in oxytuberculin.

L. C. Lane, president of Cooper Medical College and founder of the Lane Hospital, is one of the active planners of this interesting enterprise.

"An enterprise of that sort is planned and will undoubtedly be carried out," he said, "but it is too early to say anything about it yet or even when it will be done."

Since the publication a week ago of the last established results, comprising sixteen cured and many "much improved," the interest in oxytuberculin has become widespread.

Dr. Hirschfelder maintains a dignified silence in the face of the ridicule and opposition that come from some quarters.

The charge that Dr. Hirschfelder is making it a commercial fake is the most absurd of all, said one of the faculty of Cooper Medical College yesterday.

Another girl, considered one of the best operators on the system, incurred the displeasure of the same tyrant, who had once attempted undue familiarity with her and been verbally castigated.

Then there is the "party line" nuisance, for which the girls are in no wise to blame.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

There is the "party line" nuisance, for which the girls are in no wise to blame.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

TROUBLE IS IN THE SYSTEM

Maledictions From the Thoughtless as Food for Quivering Nerves.

Too Few Operators Employed.

Annoyances Caused by the Innovation of the Party Line Scheme.

Individual Cases of Harshness and Spiteful Work—Why Subscribers Make Complaint.

There are individual instances of oppression that have aroused people to protest and action; action that placed the victims of cruelty and persecution upon the pedestal of popularity, and conclusively demonstrated that only a little publicity is necessary to fan the spark of human sympathy into a strong and vigorous flame.

Not only is suffering caused, the operators by this system, worthy of perpetuation only under the reign of a Manchurian dynasty, but the public is forced to put up with annoyances well nigh unbearable.

The principal offices of the corporation are the Main office, the East office, the West office, the South office, the Mission office and Grant office.

From 9 or 9:30 P. M. until nearly midnight these girls are kept constantly on their feet, running from one end of their board to the other in order to make switches.

Another girl, considered one of the best operators on the system, incurred the displeasure of the same tyrant, who had once attempted undue familiarity with her and been verbally castigated.

Then there is the "party line" nuisance, for which the girls are in no wise to blame.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

Of course, keeping a sufficient force of girls at work could not obviate the inconveniences of the party line—that would require such a radical measure as total abolition—but it would give subscribers something like the service for which they pay, would do away with a prolific source of profanity and vulgarity, would insure prompt service in the commercial and medical world, and would relieve a large number of girls, sometimes at the support of a family, of worry, pain and almost nervous prostration.

WHALE BLOWS NEAR SWIMMER

High Diving, Swimming Race and a Capsizing at the Cliff.

Schulte Claims the World's Record Over Baker, the High Diver.

Reckless Feats in the Surf Without a Lifeboat Launched During the Contests.

There was a great deal of amusement at the Cliff House yesterday afternoon.

It was advertised that there would be a high dive and a swimming match, but nobody foresaw that a swimmer would be pursued by a large whale, caught in a dangerous eddy, and finally driven to seek the shelter of a rock over which the surf broke with thunderous roar.

The chief event advertised was a high dive; it was billed that A. B. Baker, the world's champion high diver, would dive 125 feet from a plank suspended from the veranda of the Cliff House and swim around the seal rocks with other swimmers.

Cornell undertook to do his 27-minute record around the seal rocks. He went over half the distance, and would have finished far ahead of his other swim but for the fact that he was caught in an eddy that completely baffled his progress.

Finally he started for a rock and some one familiar with signals of distress telephoned for the life-saving crew. It took them nearly twenty minutes to get to the rock, as they had much difficulty in launching.

There was a great deal of delay and dispiriting over the diving. When it came to the scratch Baker claimed that he saw no ready money and that he was not going to dive for his health.

Two Additional Concerts. The special request Mr. and Mrs. Henschel, by the English vocalists, will give two more recitals in the Y. M. C. A. building Tuesday and Thursday of this week at 3:30 P. M.

In St. Petersburg no outdoor musical performances are permitted.

NEW TO-DAY. Signature is printed in BLUE diagonally across the OUTSIDE wrapper.

of every bottle of (the Original and Genuine) Worcestershire SAUCE

Because it is so deliciously mellow and free from any acid taste, your cook will find it far superior to any premium or unsweetened chocolate.

To acquaint you with its merits a package given with each purchase of GHIRARDELLI'S Cocoa.

DR. McNULTY. THIS WELL-KNOWN AND RELIABLE SPECIALTIES Private, Nervous, Blood and Skin Diseases of Men only. Manly Power restored. Over 20 years' experience. Free consultation. Cured at Home. Terms reasonable. Hours, 9 to 3 daily, 10 to 12 on Sundays, 10 to 12. Consultation free and secretly confidential. Call or address P. ROSCOE McNULTY, M. D., 26 1/2 Kearny Street, San Francisco, Cal.

EASTERN PRICES WILL HEREAFTER APPLY TO CHAMPAGNE AT THE PALACE HOTEL Pints, $2. Quarts, $3.90

CITY OF PARIS! The City of Paris Dry Goods Co. ARE OFFERING ON MONDAY AND ENSUING WEEK ALL THE LEADING NOVELTIES IN EVENING WEAR, now the rage in Paris and New York, INCLUDING 54-inch SHIRRED LIBERTY CHIFFON, in green, white, black, Nile, lavender, pink and blue. 36-inch SHIRRED LIBERTY CHIFFON in black, Nile, pink, lavender, blue and mais. 20-inch HONEYCOMB PLAITED LIBERTY CHIFFON, in lavender, blue, green, mais, Nile, pink and black. 24-inch TUCKED AND LACE TRIMMED CHIFFON PLISSE, in white and black. 45-inch APPLIQUE MOUSSELINE DE SOIE ROBES, in cream on blue and pink, black on white. Also a complete assortment of CHIFFON MOUSSELINE DE SOIE, LIBERTY CHIFFON and EMBROIDERED MOUSSELINE DE SOIE, in all shades. COR. GEARY AND STOCKTON STS., UNION SQUARE.

Cluff Brothers, THE OLD RELIABLE Grocers. ESTABLISHED 1875. NOTICE. These are not specials, but every-day prices at our stores. Choice Creamery Butter, square 40c Salinas Buream Potatoes, 100 lbs 85c All Brands Best Family Flour, 50-pound sack, $1.25 New California Figs, per lb 5c Kingsford's Gloss Starch, 6-lb bxs 55c Columbia River Red Salmon, can 10c New Dried Fruits, all kinds 5c, 6c, 8c, 10c per lb Best Cranberries, Genuine Cape Cod, per gallon 40c Gold Medal Salad Dressing, bot 15c Choice Port and Sherry Wine, bot 25c

EASTON, ELDRIDGE & CO. REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND GENERAL AUCTIONEERS. AT AUCTION TO-MORROW, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1897. At 12 o'clock noon, AT OUR SALESROOM, 638 MARKET ST. Opposite Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Sixth-Street Investment. Easterly corner of Sixth and Shipley sts.; lot 75x125; to be sold as a whole with improvements or subdivided as follows: Corner, 75x75, well improved, suitable for a market; lot 50x75 on Shipley ave., with three houses. This property is in the heart of the most thrifty populated section of the city; can be improved to pay good interest.

LEA & PERRINS. Signature is printed in BLUE diagonally across the OUTSIDE wrapper. of every bottle of (the Original and Genuine) Worcestershire SAUCE. Because it is so deliciously mellow and free from any acid taste, your cook will find it far superior to any premium or unsweetened chocolate. To acquaint you with its merits a package given with each purchase of GHIRARDELLI'S Cocoa.

WOMAN'S SAFE REMEDY. A PIOLINE. Recommended by the leading French doctor, Dr. Tansy, Penroyal and injurious drugs. One bottle of Apioline Capsules lasts three months. Sold by all druggists, or by mail, $1. Box 2081, N. Y. Post Office.