SCHMITZ LIKENS THE BULLETIN TO A WEATHERCOCK

Labor Candidate for Mayor Addresses Voters in Hayes Valley and the Mission

HAYES VALLEY turned out in force last night to hear Eugene E. Schmitz, the Union Labor party candidate for mayor, express his views upon the issues governing the present municipal campaign. Mowry's Hall, at Grove and Laguna streets, was filled with a large and earnest crowd of workers. Both the thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth Assembly districts were drawn upon to furnish the audience that greeted Schmitz, and well did they respond.

A large number of draying firms in the city have their stables in this vicinity. There are several large breweries, a big vinegar and pickle factory, a large shoe manufacturing and other minor industries located near the hall. From this large group of wage workers residing in these districts were drawn the greater portion of the assemblage. Royally did they welcome Schmitz when he entered the hall, and vociferously did they cheer him when the speaker told them that "Hayes Valley was just as dear to him as North Beach or the Mission."

All the interest of the meeting centered around Schmitz. The workmen gave him a mighty cheer, and paid close attention to his speech. He was frequently interrupted with applause. He spoke in part as follows:

Heretofore the morning newspapers, especially The Call and Chronicle, have been stating that small boys seeking election cards have formed the bulk of the attendance at the meetings of the Union Labor party. Since that time I have been demonstrating to the Metropolitan Temple they have awakened to the fact that some few people other than small boys attend our meetings.

This is a contest for representation and every man who works for a living should stand up and work for the Union Labor party ticket. We have in our ranks in the neighborhood of 75,000 voters, but 75,000 voters on the great register if we stand together the united forces of the Democratic and Republican parties cannot overcome us.

Promises of Politicians.
Will you vote for a ticket controlled by a lot of politicians? Will you vote for a ticket dominated by the Southern Pacific Company, and which its nominees would get into power would throttle every workingman? Or will you vote the Democratic ticket, which means the same thing? Or will you vote the Union Labor party ticket, which means the same thing? I know I am not far wrong when I say that nine-tenths of the wage earners of this city will vote for the Union Labor party ticket.

Means Improved Conditions.
The upholding of this ticket will improve your condition; it will improve that of your wives and children. Politicians say that if you vote the labor ticket you are up against it; that capital will be driven from the city. Do not let them fool you. Capital can always take care of itself.

If I am elected Mayor I will be Mayor of the whole city. You need school houses in this district. You need them in other districts. Hayes Valley and North Beach are the other part of the city as dear as is North Beach or the Mission. I will remember that I have been chosen from the ranks of the people, and every workingman who appeals to me will meet with a full measure of consideration. I will not let any man expect to move that his man will have cause to reflect upon my administration.

Schmitz Makes Statement.
Eugene F. Schmitz appeared before the Machinery Union No. 153 last night to refute the statement made by P. H. McCarthy in reference to his having used casting made in a "scab" foundry. The meeting was held behind closed doors. Later Schmitz announced that the statement was false and had denounced McCarthy for issuing it.

I spoke briefly to the machinists," said Schmitz, "and to the fact that I was too good a union man to patronize a scab foundry. I referred them to Secretary Wisler and Business Agent McCabe of the Iron Molders, who both supported what I had said."

Southern Pacific Forms Combine with Santa Fe
Companies Agree as to the Hauling of Fruit Shipments to the East.

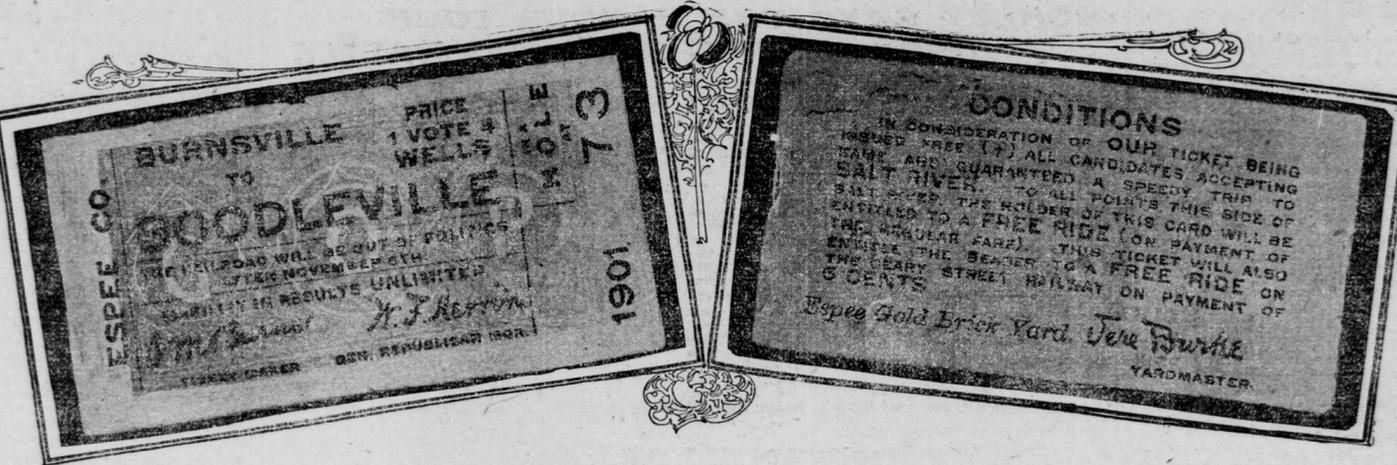

For the first time in the history of railroad affairs in California the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railways have made a compact in reference to the price to be charged for hauling fruit to the East. The story leaked out yesterday that the roads had come to an understanding and there is no little prospect of fruit shippers securing a lower rate.

It is expected that this will prove a prosperous year for fruit growers. The railroad companies have estimated that they will haul 25,000 cars loaded with fruit to the Eastern markets. Last year there was a great scarcity of fruit cars and much fruit was spoiled owing to a lack of cars to carry it East. This difficulty will not be encountered this year.

The Santa Fe Railway last year was badly handicapped by the fuel question. Beyond Mojave the company was unable to secure coal owing to the closing down of the Clarke coal mine by a strike. This strike has been settled and as there is a plentiful supply of coal it is expected that the fruit trains will be able to make fast time to the East.

Dr. C. C. O'Donnell is still in the fight and will certainly win this time. Be sure to vote for him for Mayor by writing his name, with a cross stamped opposite, on a lead pencil at head of blank column.

WILL THE VOTERS OF SAN FRANCISCO ACCEPT THIS BADGE FOR TWO YEARS?

LITTLE ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN BY REPUBLICAN VOTERS WHEN ASA R. WELLS MAKES HIS APPEARANCE AT DISTRICT MEETINGS HELD IN WESTERN ADDITION AND MISSION

Bonfires and Brass Band Attract Large Gatherings, but the Railroad Candidate for Mayor Is Listened To in Marked Silence. Venerable Nominee Presents Fatigued Attitude and Call for Cheers Fails to Arouse an Answer.

A bonfire and a brass band did not help to attract a large gathering at the meeting held in the Forty-first District last evening by the Republican voters. Pixley Hall, Polk street and Pacific avenue, was the meeting place.

Asa R. Wells, the Republican nominee for Mayor, was billed as the star attraction of the evening, but the cordiality of his reception was mainly due to a crowd of "rooters" in one corner of the small hall.

H. G. W. Dinkelspiel called the meeting to order and predicted that the district would give a large majority for the Union Labor ticket. Charles A. Murdock was called to the chair, and he "jollied" the audience by assuring them that all "family differences" had been buried and that the entire district was a unit to secure the election of Wells. Broad smiles on the faces of many of those present indicated just how deep the "differences" had been interred.

When Wells was introduced by the chairman a brass band of three instruments made a din by playing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The venerable Republican nominee made a short address and gave every sign of being thoroughly "tired out." His voice lacked volume and he seemed at a loss for words at times. He spoke as follows:

Nothing to Say on Issues.
My friends: I feel that I am either at home or very near home. For I own a large house right up the avenue here. I don't live in it just now, but I did live there for some time, and I see many faces here that I know and am glad to know. I have had a great deal of respect for the wisdom and management in public affairs of the people who live in this Forty-first District. It is a very large and important district to the Republican party. They told me this year there were some differences, there were two factions. They felt afraid there might be trouble in the campaign by reason of these differences, and I said: "Oh, well, I know the people pretty well up there, and when it comes round election day they will unite, and unless there is some very good reason they will vote the Republican ticket." I still think so. I think that this division of opinions, will in some way come together. It is not only unpleasant to the candidates but it is unpleasant to the party itself, and particularly the Republicans that live in this district. I am glad to know that we all put our shoulder to the wheel now and move on in the right direction.

Plans to Build Movable School
Board of Education's Novel Idea to Relieve Congestion.

After persistently denying the charge that the schools are overcrowded, the Board of Education has decided on a novel plan to relieve any congestion that may exist in the various districts. At yesterday's meeting of the board, President Kincaid stated that it is intended to build a movable or portable school-house of from eight to twelve rooms as the exigencies require. This building will be moved to sections where the attendance is congested and will thus relieve the situation.

Request for Colored Pupils.
Superintendent Webster's resolution providing for the expenditure of $1500 left as a bequest by Elias Hochstetler to improve in their studies the colored children attending the public schools was taken under advisement. The resolution provides for a public notice of a competitive examination on or before November 15, 1901. Applicants shall be at least 15 years of age and four of the highest will be selected. The studies will include arithmetic, 100 credits; spelling, 100 credits; reading, 50 credits; and penmanship, 50 credits. Each successful applicant will be allowed traveling expenses to the institution he or she desires to attend and $100 yearly will be paid for the tuition of each student. Any one of the following named institutions may be selected by a successful candidate:

Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.; Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga.; Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.; Lincoln University, Chester County, Pa.; Virginia Normal College, Petersburg, Va.; Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Agricultural and Mechanical College, Ala.; Oberlin College and Academy, Oberlin, Ohio.

Assignment of Teachers.
The petition of the Whittier Home Association of Amesbury to be allowed to solicit subscriptions in the schools for a proposed statue to John Greenleaf Whittier was taken under advisement.

Miss M. Deane's leave of absence was extended for a period of 20 days. President Kincaid was given power to take action in regard to the planting of a memorial tree in honor of the late President and the soliciting of contributions among the pupils for the purpose.

The resignation of Mary Peitret, as teacher in the department, was accepted. Louis Ferrari and Clinton Miller were dropped from the teachers' eligible list because they had not reported for duty. The following assignments of teachers were made:

Miss A. E. O'Sullivan, to Horace Mann Evening School; Miss A. G. Griffith, to Chinese School; Miss Annie Whitley, No. 1 of eighth list, to Hamilton school; Miss A. McDonald, No. 2 of the eligible list, to Sherman School.

Man Beaten While Trying to Steal a Coat Dies in Hospital.
Walter Gilbert, an alleged burglar, died late last night in the Receiving Hospital. The doctors are not certain whether his skull is fractured, and the police are not certain whether his condition is the result of a beating administered to him by P. Barry, a clerk in a grocery and saloon at 84 Howard street, discovered a man making off with a coat that he had left in a back room. He seized the thief and a battle ensued. The two men fought all over the premises until Barry succeeded in knocking his opponent out. He then called for Policeman G. K. Small and that officer had the beaten thief conveyed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that his hip had been fractured and his left ankle sprained. After the physicians had attended his injuries the man, who said he was Walter Gilbert, and that his residence was at 13 Pearl street, was taken to the City Hall prison, and locked up on a charge of attempted burglary. When officers started to search him they found that he was wearing two coats. Subsequent investigation proved that the under coat was the property of Edward Duffy, a plumber residing at 522 Eddy street, who had been working about the building where the fight between Barry and Gilbert took place. This discovery led to a charge of larceny being preferred against Gilbert. The police have been brought to the jail and incarcerated in the cell with him. When Policeman Lynch, who has charge of the keys, made his round shortly afterward hunting, went down Market street to the Palace Hotel. The route was then out Market street to Golden Gate avenue to the Panhandle, thence out the Point Lobos road to the Cliff. The matter of securing some concessions from the Park Commissioners was discussed. There were no accidents.

Successful Automobile Run.
The Automobile Club of California enjoyed a run last night to the Cliff House. About twenty vehicles were in line. The members met at the corner of Golden Gate and Van Ness avenues. The start was made at about 8 o'clock. The procession of automobiles, many of which were gaily decorated with Chinese lanterns and bunting, went down Market street to the Palace Hotel. Root Defeats Jimmy Ryan.
LOUISVILLE, Oct. 30.—Australian Jimmy Ryan was to-night knocked out by Jack Root of Chicago in the second round of a twenty-round contest at Music Hall. The fight was for the middle-weight championship of the West. Root was a decided favorite. Ryan, who has but one eye, forced the fighting, but Root blocked him throughout and in the first round had him at his mercy and hammered him on the blind side continuously. Ryan forced things through the first half of the second round until Root landed twice on his chin, when Ryan began to stagger. Then Root saw his man going and landed a swift swing on the point of the chin and Ryan fell like a log, the referee, Pat Masterson, counting him out. It was about fifteen minutes before Ryan recovered consciousness.

Look over our samples

When we suggest that you look over our samples we refer particularly to the patterns. You certainly can tell what appeals to your taste. But, truly, there are few, very few, people in this world who can correctly judge the quality of cloth by looking at the samples. Goods can be finished as to deceive almost everybody. You must trust to the tailor regarding the quality of the cloth.

To be frank about it you must trust to us for the quality of our goods. So we say: Order one of the suits and we will fully protect you. First, we guarantee the fit, then the workmanship, then the wear. Our guarantee is in force for a year after purchase. At any time within the period you can bring the suit in, and we will make any necessary repairs free, or if the suit is not wearing as you think it should you can have your money back.

We certainly can't be any fairer with you. Our $10 made-to-order suits are sold on this principle.

Samples are free for the asking.

Suits satisfactorily made for out-of-town customers through our self-measuring system. Write for samples and self-measuring blank.
