ADDRESS TO FIRST VOTERS.
 President McKinley's Speech, Made at First Vote at Cleveland, Oct. 9, 1900.
 "I congratulate all of you upon having gathered here on this important day. It is the duty of every citizen to be present at the polls on this day, and I trust that you will all do so. I am confident that you will all vote for the man who is best fitted to lead our country through the coming year."

WHEN SUCH CHAPS AS WALTER DILLAMORE AND GEORGE WATKINS LEAVE THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TO FORM THEMSELVES INTO A DEMOCRATIC PARTY, WE WILL BE GLAD TO WELCOME THEM TO THE PARTY.
 The Democratic party is a party of reform, and it is a party that is best fitted to lead our country through the coming year. We will be glad to welcome to our party any man who is best fitted to lead our country through the coming year.

THE INCREASED ACTIVITY AMONG THE PARTISANS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.
 The Republican party is a party of progress, and it is a party that is best fitted to lead our country through the coming year. We will be glad to welcome to our party any man who is best fitted to lead our country through the coming year.
