Revolution Which Begins in the Capital of the Uruguayan Republic.

Regiment of Light Artillery Mutinies and Joins the Rebels.

BRITISH JACKIES LANDED.

Intrigues Between the Former President's Partisans and Two of Borda's Ministers.

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay), July 4.A revolution has broken out in the capital. The Fourth Regiment of Light Artillery, headed by General Enrique, has mutinied. Firing began early this morning and continues as this dispatch is sent, close to the city.

The Government has declared the city in a state of siege and has called out the National Guard.

A detachment of British blue jackets has been landed here to defend the British Consulate.

The revolution is supposed to be the result of the intrigues of the Herrerista party, composed of the followers of ex-President Herrera Vahes, former President of the republic of Uruguay, and followers of the Colorado party, headed by Borda Caldeiro.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The revolution which is reported as having broken out in Uruguay is in respect to the controversy which arose over the succession of Cuestas to the Presidency, following the murder of President Borda last August. Under the constitution, Cuestas, who was Vice President, should have become the Executive, but a revolution was started to put the President over the supreme opposition of former President Herrera, who was a leader of a strong following in the election. Cuestas succeeded in holding his office, but Herrera's partisans have since refused to be reconciled, and their rebel Herrera, who went to Montevideo from Buenos Ayres, is said to be at the present revolution's instigator and head. He is a counterpart of which the former President Cuestas is the leader. Prisoners of the political party in Uruguay are invited to believe the present revolution will end successfully.

ENDEAVOR SOCIALS FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Since the Endeavorers have been established in the large building at Camp Merritt, they seem to have been given to the soldiers, over and above entertained at each social.

There is a demand for medicine for colds, which is always kept on hand. There has been distributed a great number of cheat pronouncements. The Rev. Dr. Dille has donated three cases of Dixie cola for distribution among the sick. The benefits of the Endeavor work in the Presbyterian Church have been extended to the hospital tents of the society in the different camps.

The good work of the Methodist Christian Endeavor Club of San Francisco is becoming well known all over the country.

The Alameda County Christian Endeavor Union has charge of the tents in the grounds of the Presbyterian Endeavor at Camp Merritt; the First Presbyterian Society looks out for the Christian Endeavor; the Second Presbyterian Society has the Methodist; the First Baptist the Congregational; the Third Baptist the Presbyterian; the Fourth Baptist the Christian. The Calvary Society cares for the big reading-room at the Presidio, and the Central Methodist Society has begun a series of evangelistic services at headquarters. On Wednesday a praise service will be held at the Presbyterian Endeavor tent, and on Thursday the Presbyterian Society will entertain the soldiers. On Friday the Christian Endeavor Union will take charge, and on Saturday the Plymouth Congregational.

To offer that a big prize is displayed to the best advantage. The pole is fifty feet in the air. Webber, who is a member of the Signal Corps, Tenth Pioneers, and Engineers at the Presidio, safely reached the pulley and soon did duty was fulfilling its task.

Oakland News Notes.

OAKLAND, July 4.—Members of the Columbian Specialty Company, composed of Oakland artists, who gave a performance at Harmony Grove eight, are anxious to find Edward L. Hall, who was a member of the company and who has disappeared. Hall, who is 21 years old, left Oakland on Thursday morning, July 30, 1896, and has been heard of by none. Hall's mother, Mrs. Mary Hall, is very much worried over the matter, and has asked the police to find her son.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. G. Schreiber made the presentation, in a cordial speech, to which Colonel Berry responded feelingly.

Much satisfaction is shown in the camp over the announcement that the shoddy and off-color uniforms will speedily be replaced with others of good quality.

No information could be had as to what vessels are to relieve the New York regiment will arrive. No arrangements have been made for its return, and it is said that it will not be here for several days yet. It is also said that the vessel on which the Utah Battery will embark will be the one that takes the Eighteenth Infantry back from Manila. It is tolerably certain, according to well-informed military men, that before the 15 and 16 of the Sixth Light Artillery from the State of Wyoming will be ordered to the front to depart. It is said that Battery A, of the Sixth Light Artillery, from Fort Mackenzie, Wyoming, will be the first to leave. The Engineer Corps is assured of a place in the expedition. The probability is that Utah and Wyoming batteries, which were ordered from Camp Merritt to the Presidio a few days ago, will go to the front.

Private Webber Reappointed After an Absence of Three Weeks From the Presidio Camp.

There is one thing worse than deserting in time of war, and that is deserting in the face of the enemy. It is to Private H. L. Webber's commission of the honor officers that he owes his life. The penalty he will pay will be a dishonorable discharge from the army, followed by at least a year's imprisonment, and perhaps at least in the opinion of the officers at the Presidio.

Webber belongs to Battery A, First Californian Artillery, which has been for the past six weeks at the Presidio. Three weeks ago Webber left camp, and in leaving did not report, as he was required to do. Soon after his departure he was reported absent without leave on Market street. The marshal notified the officers at the Presidio, and Webber was then a deserter into custody.

Later in the day an armed guard was sent to the Presidio with the deserter Webber. Back to camp he was immediately placed in the guard house. Now he can lay his head on a soft pillow.

Hussars to Parade.

The military concert and camp-fire drill which will be given at Golden Gate Hall this evening by Hasler's San Francisco Hussars will be preceded by a grand street parade, in which the Hussars, the Second Regiment Band and the Hussars' drum corps will participate. Troops A and B of the Hussars, commanded by Captains Ferrel and Hasler, respectively, will march to Golden Gate Hall at 7 o'clock. Troop A of the Hussars will leave its armory at 7:30 o'clock, and the Hussars' band will leave the armory at the Tenth-street armory at 7:30 p. m. The line of march will be from the Tenth-street Armory. The line of march will be from Golden Gate and Van Ness avenues, along Van Ness avenue to Market street, to Golden Gate Hall. The Hussars' drum corps will not march in the line, but will meet at the hall later. Troop A of the Hussars, Captain Ferrel, and Troop B, Captain Hasler, and Members of the American Rifle Club.

Colonel Berry Receives a Sword.

A chilling fog from the sea was rolling over Camp Merritt yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, when the volunteers who were to take part in the parade began to march down Point Lobos avenue. First went the full cavalry of escort to Brigadier-General Grigsby's staff. The infantry from the camp consisted of the Seventh California, the Twentieth Kansas, the First Tennessee and the Fifty-first Iowa. The Montana regiment took the McAllister-street cars for Oakland. The regulars remained in the camp, as did the South Dakota regiment of volunteers. Colonel Price said he thought it preferable for the men under his command to get the usual drill than march to the procession. About 500 recruits of the Fifty-first Iowa remained in the camp.

The South Dakotas will have the benefit of target practice at the Presidio to-morrow and Thursday.

A story was current in camp that the Tennessees in the exhuberance of their joy over Cervera's defeat, had fired off all their cartridges on Sunday night. When asked about it they laughed and said the reports were made by fire-crackers.

Walter McMahon of the Fifty-first Iowa Regiment, who has recovered from an attack of malaria, desires to express his gratitude to the Catholic Truth Society and to the sisters of St. Mary's Hospital.

Just before the troops started from the camp, Colonel Berry of the Seventh California was presented with a handsome gold, enameled sword and sword-knot. The sword had been inscribed as follows:

To Colonel John R. Berry, from the Officers of the Seventh California U. S. Volunteer Infantry, July 4th, 1898.
