TAXATION HAMPERS TOBACCO TRADE; ALL LINES SHOW LOSSES

(Cincinnati Enquirer) After a suspension of monthly re-ports for nearly a half year the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue has just issued a statement of tobacco products tax-paid during the month of August, 1919, permitting of some very interesting comparisons with previous statistics

While the tobacco manufaacturing industry in all its branches has been more or less adversely affected by natural conditions, such as the shortage of labor, strikes of workers and the high price of raw material, the figures for August seems to indicate that high rates of taxation cannot fail to seriously interfere with the production generally.

For instance, the internal revenue collections from cigar resources alone during August were the smallest of any single month since February, 1919. when the present schedule of tax rates went into effect. Collections from small cigars, however, were the largest since May, 1919, and were exceeded only by May, April and March of that year. Cigarettes continue to be the interesting feature of the revenue report, the August figures representing the largest amount ever collected from that branch of the industry dur ing a single month and establishing a new high record production.

The ratio or increase in the production of cigarettes, however, seems to have fallen off very preceptibly, and the upward trend is not nearly so marked as previous records show.

Snuff keeps pace with the cigarettes, and a new record was established in August, both for collections and production. Collections from manufactured tobacco were the largest on record for a single month and the production the greatest since October,

The total international revenue collections from tobacco resources for the month of August, 1919, show an increase over the carresponding month of 1918, amounting to $6,310,611.51, or Miss Easton recently arrived in Bal-

Pure Bred Hampshires

Straughn, Ind., Saturday, Feb. 7

55 HEAD

We will sell one of the greatest herds of Hampshires in the middle west; a herd that has taken us years of careful study and selection of the best blood lines, to establish.

The offering will include our three herd boars, Quality's Model Pride The offering will include our three herd boars, Quality's Model Pride of East Side, and Cherokee Jim. Quality's Model is a big type Hampshire boar that without exaggeration will weigh easily 800 lbs. He has a good back, big bone, good feet and is siring hogs of the highest type. He won second prize at the Indiana State Fair 1916 and is the grandson of Pat Maloy, grand champion of many of the state fairs. Pride of the East is a junior yearling that we believe will be mighty hard to beat this year. He is by Sonny You'll Do, one of the great herd boars in the Seth Hadley herd and is a line bred Longfellow boar, carrying all the good qualities of the Longfellow family. Cherokee Jim is the boar that won first at the Indiana State Fair this year. He is one of the stretchiest, longest pigs that was ever shown and was sold to the Parr & Ogle dispersion sale for $500 to Willie Essig. He is Parr & Ogle dispersion sale for $500 to Willie Essig. He is y Big Jim, the boar that rold for $1,550 and is out of Alice Cher-ad sow. We consider him a great prospect for a junior yearling show boar next year.

The sows and gilts in the offering are sired by Ann's Cherokee, Cherokee Lad, Quality's Model, Messenger Model, Lookout Lad's Pride, Cherokee Lad, Gen. Munro, Sonny You'll Do, Sonny Lad, Sunny Slope's Giant Quality's Boy and others. They are bred to Cherokee Jim, Quality's Boy, Pride of East Side and Quality's Model.

Sale will be held at Straughn, Indiana. 48 miles east of Indianapolis on the Pennsylvania Railroad and 23 miles west of Richmond, Indiana. Also on the traction line between Richmond and Indianapolis. Entire offering is immune and in good condition. Write for catalogue, Hulick, Auctioneer Bert Parr, Guide Representative
