

ADVERTISEMENTS.

LITTLE MOTHERS

Cuticura SOAP

Tens of thousands have known no other soap since birth. For preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes and chafings, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to mothers, as well as for the toilet, bath, and nursery, Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, is priceless.

Cuticura Soap combines delicate medicinal and most beautiful properties derived from Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, with the purest of cleaning ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odors.

Will Borrow Millions.
The California Wine Association filed a certificate yesterday announcing that it had declared a bonded indebtedness of $2,000,000 on its properties. It is stated in the certificate that debts and the purchase of additional properties make the issue necessary. The meeting at which the issue was declared was held in the Town Hall at Hercules, Contra Costa County, on June 20 last. The certificate bears the signature of Secretary W. Hanson.

Suits cleaned, pressed, 75c; monthly contracts, $1; called for and deliv., Club Renovatory, 638 Post; tel. East 421.

GIVES FAREWELL RECEPTION.—A farewell reception was given Robert Dietsch and Helen Fisher, both respected workers of the organization, by the Young Men's Christian Association last night before they depart today for the scene of their labors in Japan.

CHADWICK FAILS TO WIN POINT

Objection to the Admission of His Former Wife's Deposition Not Sustained

DEFENDANT ON STAND

Declines to Answer Most of Questions on Ground It Would Incriminate Him

Ernest Moore Chadwick (alias "Sir" Harry Westwood Cochr), on trial before a jury in Judge Cook's court on a charge of sending by telegraph on February 23, 1901, a false and forged message purporting to be from another person, has failed in his effort to exclude the deposition of Mrs. E. J. Kelly, formerly Miss Norine Schneider, on the ground that she was his wife and could not therefore testify against him.

When the case was called yesterday morning District Attorney Byington introduced both oral and documentary evidence of the defendant's marriage to Miss Teresa Vanvelde at the County Jail on April 5, 1903, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. Mr. Montgomery of the Church of God. When the couple were asked to join hands the prisoner shoved his hand through the bars of his cell.

Chadwick was called to the stand and he faced with the question put to him by the District Attorney. After admitting his marriage to Norine Schneider on February 23, 1901, he was asked if he had not previously been married to Ida Maude Champaign in Canada and Australia and from her. He declined to answer on the ground that it would tend to incriminate and degrade him. He gave the same answer to questions as to whether he was not previously married to Bertha Young in Australia and another woman, and not divorced from either, and as to how many women he had married. He declined to answer the question as to whether he was married in the County Jail on April 5, 1903.

He had resided in this city and county since March, 1901, he said, and raised a laugh by giving his residence as 609 Broadway instead of saying the County Jail. He could not specify any papers he had seen regarding the annulment of his marriage to Norine Schneider. He refused to say whether he had seen Bertha Young in court at his former trial.

Several passages at arms occurred between Attorney Frank J. Murphy and the District Attorney, each insinuating that the other was deficient in his knowledge of the law and was not a gentleman. The Judge had to call a halt on personalities.

After argument on the question of the admissibility of Mrs. Kelly's deposition the Judge said that particularly the evidence introduced by the District Attorney during the morning was sufficient to counterbalance the plea of the defense.

The deposition of Mrs. Kelly was then read to the jury and the case was continued till Monday morning, when counsel will make their addresses to the jury.

DIES WHILE COUGHING.—James Healion of 13 Perry street fell dead yesterday during a violent fit of coughing at 173 Fourth street, where he was employed.

WOODPILE SHRINKS WHILE WUNNERS PINES

She Suspects Some of Her Oldest Neighbors.

Fortunately Finds That the Thief Is a "Vag."

Informing her that his tribunal was not in street or granted a change of venue to Judge Fritz's court, where she was sentenced to six months for seemingly incurable inebrity.

Various neighbors of Mrs. Rosina Strahle, whose home and kennel are at Connecticut and Wisconsin streets, swore that the howling and barking and snarling of her eleven canine pets murdered slumber in the vicinity. Other neighbors of the defendant and after that the dogs did not annoy them at all—that, indeed, they rather relished the noises complained of by the witnesses for the prosecution. One gentleman went so far as to opine that to a removal of Mrs. Strahle's four-footed pets would be little short of judicial tyranny, more worthy of darkest Russia than of the brightest State in the American group. Mrs. Strahle herself asserted that any one who could not sleep because of the sounds emitted by her animals must be afflicted with insomnia and should at once consult a specialist.

BY JAMES C. CRAWFORD

Ere she discovered the real author of her woodpile's abnormal shrinkage, Mrs. Templeton was treating with the coldness born of suspicion some of her neighbors on Tehama street, for to no other cause than nocturnal pilfering by them could she attribute the diminution of her fuel. So she was in a very unhappy state of mind when her discovery of William Toy as the culprit impelled her to renew the entente cordiale with the erstwhile suspects.

William Toy, it may not be amiss to explain at this point, was not of the social set in which Mrs. Templeton circulates. He is a ne'er-do-weel, enslaved by opium and utilized as a horrible example for the youth of Tehama street to profit by. Parents and guardians have appreciated his value in that respect, and to their contributions of food and raiment and occasionally small coins he has owed his ability to live—if existence such as his could properly be designated living. And he it was who dimpled Mrs. Templeton's woodpile. Whether he burned the plunder or sold it for the wherewith to purchase "dope" was not disclosed at his trial before Police Judge Mogan, who pronounced him guilty of vagrancy and reserved sentence until to-morrow.

Prior to entering the Templeton woodshed night before last Mr. Toy apparently inhaled more opium smoke than was his wonted dose, for stupefaction suddenly overcame him while he was picking choices chutney to the charge. He fell upon his back and snored. The nasal solo was so loud as to awaken Mrs. Templeton from her first sleep, and after tracing it to its source she summoned Patrolman H. Clancy, who did the round if her wood had not been stolen, or if she had not suspected some of her oldest acquaintances of having perpetrated the raids. Mrs. Templeton might not have allowed her wrath to incense her, but she did, and thus deprive Tehama street of a living picture that was not devoid of educational worth.

Alexander Schuss was a picture of mind ease as he stood in Kearny street. He had just enriched himself peculiarly, but not in prudence, by a mercantile transaction, and as he walked along he filtered gold and silver coins between the fingers of his hand that were immersed in a pantaloons pocket. The jingling sound aroused the cupidty of a juvenile passer-by, one Harry Gannon, and he requested Mr. Schuss to lend him a dime.

"A dime?" quoth Mr. Schuss pleasantly. "Tut! Tut! but a paltry sum. My dear you ask for a dollar." And he drew from his cash pocket a silver disk of the latter denomination.

Master Gannon's eyes popped as he gazed at the tempting exhibit.

"Or why," Mr. Schuss pursued, with augmented pleasantry, "don't you beg for this?"

It was a $20 piece that he held lightly between his fingers. Master Gannon gasped—then grabbed the double-angle and sprinted. Mr. Schuss gasped—and pursued.

Patrolman "Jack" Stelzner captured the boy and recovered the money after an exciting chase. Judge Conlan has the case under consideration. Mr. Schuss no longer strutted, as his pocket emit a metallic tinkle as he modestly walks.

Mrs. Sarah Keefe, of rubicund countenance and unenviable record, was conversing with a man at 3 o'clock on a Third-street sidewalk when the policeman arrested her as a vagrant.

"Did you ever hear the likes?" she asked his Honor Mogan, and her tone was that of severity.

"Why, the gentleman was a friend of mine and I was requesting him to escort me to a Sutter-street car when this policeman came along."

"Sutter street cars don't run all night," the Judge remarked.

"Don't they? Well, if I were in the habit of staying all night I might know that. I hope you'll make allowance for my ignorance. Please forgive me for not knowing as much about the night cars as some other people know. Really, it must have been quite foolish of me to spend my nights at home instead of sitting up to find out what time the cars stopped running."

"Where is your home?"

"My home is at Folsom and Russ streets."

BY JAMES C. CRAWFORD

Erre she discovered the real author of her woodpile's abnormal shrinkage, Mrs. Templeton was treating with the coldness born of suspicion some of her neighbors on Tehama street, for to no other cause than nocturnal pilfering by them could she attribute the diminution of her fuel. So she was in a very unhappy state of mind when her discovery of William Toy as the culprit impelled her to renew the entente cordiale with the erstwhile suspects.

William Toy, it may not be amiss to explain at this point, was not of the social set in which Mrs. Templeton circulates. He is a ne'er-do-weel, enslaved by opium and utilized as a horrible example for the youth of Tehama street to profit by.

Parents and guardians have appreciated his value in that respect, and to their contributions of food and raiment and occasionally small coins he has owed his ability to live—if existence such as his could properly be designated living.

Prior to entering the Templeton woodshed night before last Mr. Toy apparently inhaled more opium smoke than was his wonted dose, for stupefaction suddenly overcame him while he was picking choices chutney to the charge. He fell upon his back and snored. The nasal solo was so loud as to awaken Mrs. Templeton from her first sleep, and after tracing it to its source she summoned Patrolman H. Clancy, who did the round if her wood had not been stolen, or if she had not suspected some of her oldest acquaintances of having perpetrated the raids. Mrs. Templeton might not have allowed her wrath to incense her, but she did, and thus deprive Tehama street of a living picture that was not devoid of educational worth.

Alexander Schuss was a picture of mind ease as he stood in Kearny street. He had just enriched himself peculiarly, but not in prudence, by a mercantile transaction, and as he walked along he filtered gold and silver coins between the fingers of his hand that were immersed in a pantaloons pocket. The jingling sound aroused the cupidty of a juvenile passer-by, one Harry Gannon, and he requested Mr. Schuss to lend him a dime.

Master Gannon's eyes popped as he gazed at the tempting exhibit.

"Or why," Mr. Schuss pursued, with augmented pleasantry, "don't you beg for this?"

It was a $20 piece that he held lightly between his fingers. Master Gannon gasped—then grabbed the double-angle and sprinted. Mr. Schuss gasped—and pursued.

Patrolman "Jack" Stelzner captured the boy and recovered the money after an exciting chase. Judge Conlan has the case under consideration. Mr. Schuss no longer strutted, as his pocket emit a metallic tinkle as he modestly walks.

Mrs. Sarah Keefe, of rubicund countenance and unenviable record, was conversing with a man at 3 o'clock on a Third-street sidewalk when the policeman arrested her as a vagrant.

"Did you ever hear the likes?" she asked his Honor Mogan, and her tone was that of severity.

"Why, the gentleman was a friend of mine and I was requesting him to escort me to a Sutter-street car when this policeman came along."

"Sutter street cars don't run all night," the Judge remarked.

"Don't they? Well, if I were in the habit of staying all night I might know that. I hope you'll make allowance for my ignorance. Please forgive me for not knowing as much about the night cars as some other people know. Really, it must have been quite foolish of me to spend my nights at home instead of sitting up to find out what time the cars stopped running."

"Where is your home?"

"My home is at Folsom and Russ streets."

BRAND'S WOMAN AS BLACKMAILER

Attorney Van Ness Declares Miss Henry's Breach of Promise Suit Is Bogus

WHITTIER IS VICTIM

Counsel Battle to Withhold Knowledge of Wealth of Man She Says Jilted Her

Nelle T. Henry must fight her suit against W. F. Whittier, a local capitalist, for $50,000 damages for breach of promise, with the imputation of opposing counsel resting on her that she is advancing a claim she knows full well is absolutely bogus and savors strongly of blackmail.

This was the charge laid against Miss Henry by Attorney T. C. Van Ness before Judge Kerrigan yesterday afternoon during the argument on an order directing Whittier to show cause why he refused to answer questions relating to his financial standing during the taking of his deposition in the case before a notary public. It was contended by Attorney Lloyd & Wood and Mr. Van Ness, who represent Whittier, that he should not at this time be called upon to place on record a list of his properties, though it can hardly be contended, said Mr. Van Ness, that the defendant here is not well able to meet any judgment this woman may secure against him.

"But we have little fear that she will obtain a judgment," continued Mr. Van Ness. "While I advise her counsel, Mr. Welles Whitmore, of any questionable motive in bringing this suit on behalf of Miss Henry, I will say without reserve that I know her claim to be absolutely bogus. What is there to prevent any blackmailer from instituting an action of this kind? This town, I will hazard to remark, is disgraced by many women that would readily lend themselves to the carrying out of just such a scheme as I believe this to be.

"An enemy of any person might well conceive such a plot and then go forth and find a woman to help him carry it into execution that the victim of the conspiracy might be decreed and his financial condition exposed, and be the better looked by those that plan against him.

"If this woman would learn the financial condition of Mr. Whittier, let her first establish her case or convince the court beyond a reasonable doubt that she is entitled to judgment. Once she convinces this court that she has been wronged then it will be time enough for this defendant to answer any questions that may be put to him regarding his property rights. Advancing, as we claim she does, on an absolutely bogus claim and in face of the oath of the defendant that he never promised to marry her, we deny the right of the plaintiff to inquire into his financial standing. If she would know how much gold he possesses let her first establish her right to a single dollar of it. Then our objections may be withdrawn."

Attorney Wood also protested against

A great sale of Children's Summer Dresses starts this morning. New building prices first time to-day.

2500 Pairs Stockings

25c and 35c Values } 18c pr. } 50c and 65c Values } 29c pr.

2500 pairs traveler's samples all told. Hardly two pairs alike. We can only hint at the real importance of the occasion here.

It's one of those rare happenings typical of Hale buying, that snaps up hundreds of dozens when economy is to be gained, where other stores could only think of single pairs.

First at 18c } Next at 29c pr.

A thousand pairs of 25c and 35c stockings, samples in 25 different styles, lace, black, all-over lace, lace ankles, black with embroidered insteps, and tans, blacks and browns, with extra room to spread them out on the bargain table in front of the elevator, main floor.

Millinery

152 Milan Hats at 95c
Genuine Milans. The very hats most wanted for late summer wearing that sold earlier in the season at $2.50 or more. All a maker had left.

Bright, new, perfect as can be; polo turbans, continental, flat shapes, turbans, bell crowns. Our today's building sale price, 95c. Trim them with new wings, 25c pair. And a knot of velvet.

30c Chocolates

Chewing chocolates, and a 40c pound for 30c to-day. Made specially for Hale's; fresh and good. Ten of them for 5c. 30c lb.

Japanese Cocoanuts, 20c pound; Regularly 25c.

Marshmallows at 25c; Regularly 40c, big, fluffy ones.

10c Veiling

That's worth lending more room than we can give it today. Most every woman who wears a veil should share it.

It's a tuxedo mesh, in black, white, white on black, brown and navy blue, chenille dotted and plain; fancy veils, meshes from very small to large plaid effects. Building sale price, 10c yard.

Mr. Whittier being called upon prior to the hearing of the suit to place his financial standing on record, and quoted as follows in his deposition: "I am a local capitalist, and my financial condition is such that I am not well able to meet any judgment this woman may secure against me."

Mr. Whittier being called upon prior to the hearing of the suit to place his financial standing on record, and quoted as follows in his deposition: "I am a local capitalist, and my financial condition is such that I am not well able to meet any judgment this woman may secure against me."

BROKEN SEWER ENDANGERS HEALTH AND PROPERTY

Official's Negligence Causes One Resident to Abandon His Home.

Health and property have been placed in grave danger by a defective sewer at the corner of Sixteenth and De Haro streets. For nearly a month De Haro street has been oozing from two manholes and notwithstanding the fact that complaints have been made to the police and the Board of Public Works, nothing in the nature of remedying the defects has yet been done.

The filthy fluid flows in large quantities at times and runs through yards and under houses. The stench is insupportable and already one resident, Louis Figro, has been forced to abandon his home and move to other quarters. Children play about in the refuse all day and a child yesterday discovered the woodwork in fire. The flames had not gained much headway and he gave an alarm. With the help of some of the roomers the blaze was quickly extinguished. What made him suspect that an attempt had been made to burn up the house was the fact that a lantern containing coal oil had been moved from where it was hanging over the door and placed in the hallway under a box. There the lantern had been broken and the burning oil set fire to the woodwork.

POLICE INVESTIGATING WHAT SEEMS AN INCENDIARY FIRE

Woodwork in the Hallway of Lodging-house on Fourth Street Discovered in Flames.

August Huber, proprietor of a lodging-house at 149 Fourth street, reported to the police yesterday morning that an attempt had been made to set fire to the place. He said he was awakened from his sleep about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning by the crackling noise of flames. He jumped out of bed and at once made an investigation. In the hallway he discovered the woodwork on fire. The flames had not gained much headway and he gave an alarm. With the help of some of the roomers the blaze was quickly extinguished. What made him suspect that an attempt had been made to burn up the house was the fact that a lantern containing coal oil had been moved from where it was hanging over the door and placed in the hallway under a box. There the lantern had been broken and the burning oil set fire to the woodwork.

The Race Question.

"The Problem of the Negro Race," handled in a masterly way and written from a Southerner's point of view, constitutes the most interesting and vital article in this week's News Letter.

A caustic attack on the Grand Jury deserves mention.

"Corduroy Lummis" of the "City of Angels" is made to face a stinging artillery of ridicule.

"At the Point of the Pelicans" is one of Eleanor F. Levy's weird stories.

The departments throughout are written in a clever manner and the News Letter this week comes up to its usual standard of excellence.

Demand Change of Venue.

The application of Charles F. Curry, Charles N. Post and W. W. Shannon, constituting the State Printing Board, for a change of venue of the suit instituted by Bonestell, Richardson & Co. to restrain them from awarding a contract to A. Zellerbach for paper to be used in the printing of school books, was taken up by Judge Seawell yesterday, but continued until next Friday for final argument. The officious named ask that the case be tried in Sacramento, but the plaintiff corporation wants the suit determined here. Authorities were quoted at length by both sides, after which Judge Seawell ordered a continuance.

Inquire Into School Needs.

President Roncovieri and Directors Altman and Boyle visited Ingleside yesterday to look into the needs of the residents of that district and will wait a census report from the improvement club of the number of children without school facilities before taking action. A visit to the Fairmount School disclosed a crowded condition and either a portable schoolhouse will be ordered or an adjoining school building raised so as to add four more schoolrooms.

Ribbon News

Filled with building interest, for here are:

Black Taffetas, 3 1/2 inches wide, at 12 1/2c yard; 3 1/2 inches wide, at 14c worth 20c and 35c yard, respectively. Simple ribbons seldom found underpriced. That's the reason we are giving them a lead to-day. It's doing things that are seldom done that has put this fabric ribbon store so far to the front.

And a table full of ribbon remnants, bright, new, fancy ribbons—among them—

This Fallletine at 25c yard; 5 1/2-inch ribbon, 3 to 4 tones of a color. It was used extensively as a hat trimming this fall.

Men's Ties, 29c

Regular 50c values. 100 dozen of them, just vibrating with building sale interest, for they're made of regular 50c silks, all new patterns. Light, medium and dark colors. 4-in.-hands, shields and band tecks and clubs. 50c ties at 29c. It's a good time to lay in an entire year supply.

Handkerchiefs, 8 1/2-in. Regular 15c values. Another enthusiastic item for men. Cambric, with a linen finish, nicely hemstitched, all width hems. $1-30.

Market St., Near Sixth, S. F.

The fact that you have a horse to sell is a secret, shared by yourself and a few friends perhaps, until you have advertised it in the classified columns—then the people who want to buy horses are "put wise."

Engage your tables! Grand opening of Cliff House new grill Sunday, Aug. 27.

LECTURES ON "TROPICAL MEXICO."—An illustrated lecture on "Tropical Mexico" was given last night at the Alhambra Theater by Harry Wagner, recently returned from a tour of that country, before the California Camera Club and its friends. A large audience greeted the speaker.

THE OLD RELIABLE BAY CITY MARKET

ESTABLISHED 1875.
1132-58 Market St. 25-27-29 Turk St.

Special Sale Every Saturday.

Never offered before in San Francisco

Prime Roast Beef

Per lb. 10c

CORNER BEEF—(Best) per lb 5c (Stall Fed Cattle)

SHOULDER LAMB—5c per lb

FOREQUARTER LAMB—7c per lb

HINDQUARTER LAMB—10c per lb

ALL OTHER PRICES OF MEATS REDUCED IN PROPORTION.

Every Saturday night from 7 to 10 O'CLOCK we will have CLEVER SALE, whereby BARGAINS can be had which will SURPRISE you. Strictly no telephone orders received for special rates. CALL and SELECT YOUR OWN MEAT.

...SASH WEIGHTS...

TO BUILDERS AND CONTRACTORS

Your attention is called to the fact that the price of sash weights to-day and to-morrow will be

$20.00 Per Ton

We have constantly on hand a large stock of all sizes.

Standard Manufacturing and Supply Co.

Phone south 887. FRED H. ROWE, Sales Agent Phone Main 5458.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Promotes the growth of the hair and gives it the lustrous and softness of youth. When the hair is gray or faded it brings back the youthful color. It prevents dandruff and hair falling and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

CARTERS' CURE SICK HEADACHE. LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature.

DIRECTORY OF RESPONSIBLE HOUSES. Catalogue and Price Lists Mailed on Application.

OILS. LUBRICATING OILS: LEONARD & ELLIS. 418 Front st., S. F. Phone Main 1719.

PRINTING. PRINTER. E. C. HUGHES, 511 Sansome st., S. F.

Girls' Peter Thompson Long Coat
New Model for Autumn and Winter

Made of all-wool Dundee Cheviot; navy only; half lined with red flannel; device on sleeve; belted back; sizes 6 to 14 years. Specially priced at

$5.50

Just received a new line of Children's and Misses' Woolen Dresses
New and Exclusive Autumn Styles

We make special mention of our ONE-PIECE RUSSIAN DRESSES; made of all-wool serge, in navy and brown; front elaborately trimmed with cord and buttons; patent leather belt; $5.00 sizes 8 to 10 years.

A variety of other styles—all moderately priced.

Small Women's, Misses' and Juniors' Tailor-Made Suits

Correct Autumn Modes. $10.50 and up

Remainder of our line of Girls' Sailor Dresses

With pure linen collars; sizes 8 to 14; will be closed out Saturday and Monday at $1.00

Closing Out Our Entire Stock of Ladies' Woolen and Silk Wrappers

Broken sizes—in a variety of styles.

All will be sold at sacrifice prices

Note a few of the reductions below:

$5.00 and $5.50 CASHMERE WRAPPERS now... $3.75
$7.75 FRENCH FLANNEL WRAPPERS now... $4.00
$17.50 SILK WRAPPERS now... $9.50

J. Magnin & Co.
918-922 Market Street

Store closes Saturdays at 6 P. M. No Branch Stores.

THE FOLLOWING GOODS ON SALE For To-Day Only

150 White Lawn Waists made exactly like cut to be placed on sale to-day.

$1.50 WHITE LAWN WAISTS

SIZES 32 to 44

98c

Pictured Waist trimmed with 3 rows of embroidery insertion and Valenciennes lace. Made with extra full sleeves and extra deep cuffs. Valenciennes Lace stock. Fastened in back.

98c PATENT LEATHER HAND BAGS . . . 66c

Fitted with outside case.

20c SATIN TAFFETA WASH RIBBON, per yd.

Come 4 inches wide.

$1 CHIFFON and CHANTILLY DRAPE VEILS 50c

All the new fall effects to select from.

50c NOVELTY BEADED NECKLACES . . . 25c

Come in pearl and gold. Some are graduated. Others have pendants attached.

50c WOMEN'S LISLE LONG SLEEVE VESTS 39c

Come in medium weight.

$1.25 WARNER'S RUST PROOF CORSETS . . . 98c

Come with hose supporters attached.

MARKS BROS.
The Home for Honest Values.
1220-1224 MARKET ST.