

VOL. LXXXV.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1902.

NO. 75

PERISH TENNESSEE FLOOD

Twenty-two Known Dead and These Figures May Be Greatly Increased.

NARVILLE, March 30.—Reports from the flooded district of Tennessee emphasize the gravity of the situation. The damage will, it is believed, reach $1,000,000. While twenty-two lives are known to be lost, several counties certainly to have suffered heavily are yet cut off from communication, and the loss of property and life may go higher than these figures. Neither the Louisville and Nashville nor the Nashville and Nashville nor the Nashville and Nashville...

As no freight can be moved westward, there is some fear that a famine in foodstuffs may result in Birmingham and other cities. The Nashville and Nashville...

From figures available the following families are known to be missing: Phelan, George—Hoskins, Conner, Sarah Phelan, John Cole, William, three children, all missing.

After a storming night, the top of a tree in the Heronville district, three miles from Nashville, was blown down, and the trunk fell across the road.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—Advisors from the flooded district in the Memphis valley report that the waters are receding slowly. It is believed that the waters to overflow, and other property will soon be an enormous loss. It is reported that many negroes lost their lives.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

THOUSANDS ENJOY EASTER SUNDAY AT BEACH AND PARK

CHILDREN ON THE CLIFF HOUSE.

Lack of Transportation Spoils Holiday for Many.

THE BEACH.—San Francisco residents gathered in great numbers to the beach on Sunday, and the sun shone as brightly as on any other day of the season. The beach was crowded with people, and the water was calm. The children were playing on the beach, and the adults were walking and sunbathing.

GRAVE TROUBLE SEEMS IMMINENT. Plans for General Uprising in Macedonia and Albania.

CLAYTON RETURNING TO DEFEND HIMSELF. Ambassador to Mexico Will Appear in Person to Answer.

HAGGIN'S NEW KENTUCKY PALACE. Millionaire Proposes to Make It His Home for Summer Each Year.

VEGETABLES TO CHICAGO. Daily Refrigerator Service Put on by Express Company in Belts.

NO RELIEF IN THE NORTHWEST. Railroad Traffic is Blocked by the Serious Floods.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.), March 30.—The district of Paducah is believed that Will Adams, a farmer, his wife and five children, have perished in the flood, which has done great damage to the property of the district.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION IN ITS PATH

A Severe Windstorm Visits Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

VERY HEAVY DAMAGE DONE TO PROPERTY. MANY PERSONS SERIOUSLY HURT WHILE WORKING IN THE CRACKS.

Timbers and Other Building Material, at Crash Down Upon the Heads of the Crew.

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle." PITTSBURGH, March 30.—One of the heaviest windstorms ever known in this section struck the city today, just before noon. Almost irreparable damage was done to property, and many people were injured, some of whom may die.

The most serious accident was the overthrow of a freight train near the city. The train was derailed, and the cars were overturned. The passengers were injured, and the property was damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Golden Gate Park the day was an open festival, and the people were enjoying the day. The children were playing on the beach, and the adults were walking and sunbathing.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

RUN DOWN IN THE NIGHT BY A STEAMER

Little Fishing Schooner Sunk in Delaware Bay and Three Drowned.

VICTIMS CAUGHT BY THE RUSH OF WATER. ALL HAD BEEN SLEEPING BELOW, BUT MOST MANAGED TO GET ON DECK.

Survivors Fled Rapidly to the Bluff-Topped Island Reached by Boat of the Vessel That Collided.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—With the greater part of her crew of eleven men asleep in their bunks below deck, the little fishing schooner, Edna Earl, bound for the sea, was run down and sunk in Delaware bay, off Hedy Island, late last night, and three of her crew drowned.

The vessel that struck the Edna Earl was the Norwegian steamer, Hovland, from New York to Philadelphia in ballast, which carried a large number of the crew and brought them to the city. The Hovland was bound for Philadelphia, and the Edna Earl was bound for the sea.

The vessel that struck the Edna Earl was the Norwegian steamer, Hovland, from New York to Philadelphia in ballast, which carried a large number of the crew and brought them to the city. The Hovland was bound for Philadelphia, and the Edna Earl was bound for the sea.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.

At Herby, W. Va., English, near the head of the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers, a severe windstorm struck the city, and the property was damaged. The wind was so strong that the trees were blown down, and the buildings were damaged.