WORLD SPEAKS TO WORLD WITH MYSTERIOUS SIGNALS THROUGH VAST SPACE.
TESLA, THE ELECTRICIAN, SAYS HE RECEIVED A MESSAGE FROM MARS

Nikola Tesla has had the first call of the century from a neighboring planet. He has communicated with Mars, he declares, while on Piko's Peak, delving into the mysteries of the wireless transmission of electrical energy.
The summons was faint, but, according to Tesla, not to be mistaken.
A new voice from a planet, millions of miles removed, was spoken over one of the myriad of untwined telephones of the universe, and there, near the lonely mountain peak, in the fathomless calm of night, the voice at last found a listener and world spoke to world in language strange at first, but sure to be clearer, says Tesla, ere the Twentieth Century has finished its course.

ASSASSINATION OF COUNT VON WALTERSEE BY AN OFFICER OF THE ALLIED TROOPS REPORTED IN PARIS

Similar Rumors Have Also Been Circulated in the German Capital, but as Yet They Are Not Confirmed.

PARIS, January 4.—"Le Journal" reports, the death of Count von Waltersee, the rumor being that he was killed by an officer of the allied troops, the circumstances not being related. It is said that the rumor is current in Berlin, where it is contradicted.
"Le Journal" is the only Paris paper to print the report of Von Waltersee's death, and it does so with reserve.
BERLIN, January 3.—Nothing is known here of Von Waltersee's death.

NOT A CHINESE GAMBLER HAS YET BEEN ARRESTED

Chief Sullivan Confines His Attention to Lottery Dealers and Brothel Keepers, and the Commission Does Nothing.

Chief of Police Sullivan has now turned his attention to the arrest of the keepers of the houses where Chinese gamblers were held. He also makes some mention of arresting Chinese lottery dealers. But he has not yet arrested a single Chinese gambler at a table, far less a pi gow or stud-house poker. That might be dangerous.

The Chinese lottery dealers arrested on Wednesday, of course, forfeited their bail yesterday, as it was intended they should, as part of the company by which Mayor Phelan and Chief Sullivan are trying to sell the city's honor for a few pieces of the filthy money of Chinese origin. Bench warrants were issued, as a formality. Of course they were not served.

But not a single Chinese gambler has been arrested, though Chief Sullivan knows where the gambling games are running right along the express track and around the city. It was expected that they would take up the Chinatown matter. It was hoped they would ask Chief Sullivan why he was not laying their well-aided inquiries to enforce the laws of the city and the State. But they did not touch the matter at all.

Their time was consumed in ascertaining whether a policeman took Lawyer Knapp out of a row at a Republican primary by his arm or the neck of the neck. On this important matter they set out long after midnight. But they didn't mention the Chinese gamblers.

TAKING IN THE BROTHEL KEEPERS, BUT SPARING THE BIG GAMBLERS

The chief intends to arrest only the small ones, within the hour or so after the close of the night. Yesterday Chief Sullivan had his men break down the doors of the houses where the Chinese gamblers were held. These were the houses where the Chinese gamblers were held. These were the houses where the Chinese gamblers were held.

The Distinguished Feeble Electrical Disturbances Which Could Not Have Been of Solar or Earthly Origin.

NEW YORK, January 3.—It was in investigating feeble electrical actions transmitted through the earth that I made some observations which are of the most gratifying.

Chief among these were certain feeble electrical disturbances which I could hardly see at first, and which by their character unmistakably showed that they were neither of solar nor planetary origin.

I have increasingly thought of this for months, until finally I arrived at the conclusion, amounting almost to knowledge, that they must be of planetary origin. I have perfected my transmitting apparatus so far that I can transmit a message which will without the slightest doubt be fully competent to convey sufficient energy to the planet Mars to operate one of those delicate apparatus which are now using here, as, for instance, a very sensitive telegraph or telephone instrument.

Now, since my apparatus are already so far advanced, it is unreasonable to believe that if twenty or thirty other planets of the solar system, now, or in future, might be able of it in the distance? Where there is one's best and nearest, the most originate and go on developing, just as a stone must fall to earth.

The Discoverer Believes One of the Planets May Have Already Perfected a Scheme of Inter-planetary Communication.

NEW YORK, January 3.—Pulsar, a planet located by the astronomer, was the first to be discovered in the solar system. It is a planet of the solar system, and it is a planet of the solar system.
